Beauty Event Split in S.S.F.

BY DON GRIERSON

As matters now stand, South San Francisco will have two beauty pageants this year: The official, chamber of commerce-sponsored "Miss South San Francisco" event, and a rival "Miss Industrial City" pageant" produced by Dolly Drew.

Sixteen contestants in the originally planned "Miss South San Francisco" pageant divided equally during last week's dispute between chamber officials and Mrs. Drew, and half the girls will participate in each event.

James Sargen, appointed last week to replace Mrs. Drew as director of the city's official pagent, said the chamber secured signed agreements from eight of the entrants at a Wednesday night tea for the contestants and their parents.

The girls who chose to remain with the chamber of commerce production will be coached by Mrs. Jerry Kelelane Matlock, a dance instructor for the San Mateo YWCA, Sargen said.

Former "Miss South San Francisco" Barbara Sams will also assist Sargen in preparing the chamber production, which has the sanction of the Fiesta Dream Girl Pageant and the South San Francisco council.

The show will be presented May 25 at South San Francisco High School, as originally planned, Sargen said.

Entrants in the "Miss South San Francisco" pageant, as of today, include Sheryl Morris, Dorothy Lahey, Debbie Boyle, Karen Phurman, Shirley Boyd, Linda Stagner, Sara Pereciado, and Ramona Skola.

"We are still accepting entrants," Sargen said, "and any qualified girl may secure an application from the chamber office."

Sargen said one of the principal characteristics the chamber is seeking in pageant contestant is "maturity."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Drew, the former Dolly Schumacher and herself a past "Miss South San Francisco," announced Thursday she is proceeding with her show as planned with the eight contestants who chose not to participate in he chamber of commerce production.

"We will present our originally planned Polynesian show," she said, "and are now seeking sponsors."

She said those participating in the "Miss Industrial City" pageant include Barbara Dickson, Bonnie Fowler, Colleen Corey, Gayle Garrod, Evelyn Maez, Debbie Stevenson, Trudy Faria, nd Lynn Woodman.

The pageant staff includes former "Miss South San Francisco" Dixine Davis and Mrs. Drew's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schumacher.

Mrs. Drew said a time and place for her presentation has not been determined, but will be announced next week.

The Schumacher School of Theatrical Dance has directed the chamber-sponsored "Miss South San Francisco" pageant for the past two years and was in charge of the current production until Mrs. Drew and chamber of commerce officials split "over a number of minor points" last week.

This year's production is the fifteenth annual "Miss South San Francisco" pageant.

Use Permit For Sign Is Denied

South San Francisco councilmen upheld a planning commission decision denying a permit for the proposed "enlargement and redevelopment" of a sign atop the Bell Electric Co. building on Airport Boulevard Monday.

Councilmen acted to deny the firm's appeal of the earlier commission decision after Planner Daniel Pass warned the city could be held responsible to pay "just compensation" for the sign should Bayshore Freeway be declared a "landscaped highway" under the Federal Highway Beautification Act.

Though an attorney for the applicants, Walter Coppocioli, argued the city would assume no liability for "just compensation" in granting the permit, Pass said State Division of Highways officials have stated there is a "distinct possibility" of such liability once the highway beautification program gets under way.

In opposing the new sign, a proposed 20 by 60-foot billboard type, Pass pointed out the original planning commission and council resolutions authorizing the present "appurtenant" sign in 1956 specifically prohibited a billboard type sign.

"These resolutions also limited use of the sign to the advertisement of the firm's own business," he said.

The applicants were seeking permission to erect a conventional billboard sign with the

'HUSH-HUSH' MEETING

Muni Extension Study

By FRANK LaPIERRE

A joint committee is being named to study the feasibility of extending San Francisco muni bus service down the Peninsula, eventually linking up with future services of the West Bay Rapid Transit District.

The committee resulted from a hush-hush meeting held between San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto and members of the North County Council of Cities Executive Committee in Daly City Monday.

Members of the press were barred from the meeting. Daly City Manager Edward Frank said the NCCC members, including Mayor Bernard Lycett, Patrick Ahearn (South San Francisco), Karney Barberian (San Bruno) and Mrs. Grace MaCarthy (Pacifica), excluded news media from the session "so we could let our hair down."

However, an aide to Mayor Alioto later told this newspaper the discussion centered around a proposal to extend muni transit services along the present 14-mile San Francisco-owned right-of-way.

The route would take the proposed system through Daly City, Colma, San Bruno and parts of South San Francisco to San Mateo.

Within an hour after Alioto left the meeting, his executive assistant, Hadley Roff, said transportation expert James K. Carr, John A. Deluca, executive assistant to the mayor, and John H. Tolon, deputy for development for San Francisco, had been named to the study committee.

Three North County city managers were named to the study panel — Gene Aiello, South San Francisco; Edward Frank, Daly City, and Chuck Schwalm, Burlingame.

Roff said the six-member group will study the fundamentals of getting such a system in operation on the Peninsula.

"Why stop because someone drew a boundary line years ago," Mayor Alioto reportedly told the luncheon meeting at International Joe's Restaurant.

It was the third meeting Mayor Alioto has held with surrounding county representatives. Last month he met for more than a hour with San Mateo County supervisors in his offices to exchange views on problems confronting both areas.

Another meeting between Alioto and the NCCC Board was scheduled for June, Roff said.

Alioto expressed satisfaction with the meetings, calling them "conspicuously constructive."

The San Francisco mayor has felt for sometime that San Mateo and San Francisco counties "have to forge an alliance" on certain matters, Roff said.

Members of the NCCC Board were unusually quiet on matters discussed during the session and had, for the most part, few comments regarding the reason news media was excluded. In other joint meetings between Alioto and various boards, news media had been invited to report on the proceedings.

Roff said, "I cana't explin why the newspapers were not allowed inside . . . we (Mayor Alioto) were invited to Daly City . . . and didn't know what to expect before we got here."

City Manager Frank said the presence of newsmen "would make the meeting too formal . . . and we couldn't just talk without going into specifics."

The controversial "commuter tax" Alioto has proposed to levy against persons working in his city and living elsewhere was politely averted, according to Roff.

Just prior to the meeting breaking up, however, the subject was brought up by Alioto himself who informed the representatives that the proposed tax was still under consideration by his office and that perhaps an even wider effort on a statewide basis should be made on all earnings.

The North County representatives continued to politely disagree, our source said.

Beauty Event In Pacifica On Saturday

Billed as even more elaborate than in the past, the Miss Pacifica pageant for 1968 will be staged at Terra Nova High School, starting at 8 p.m., Saturday.

Eleven girls will participate in the official Miss California-Miss America preliminary sponsored by the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce, under the general chairmanship of Stan VanderHule.

The contestants are:

Sheila Ann Taylor, Loretta Glassick, Donna Lee Van Sickle, Kathleen McLain, Valerie Lea Wagner, Lisa Marie Kibblewhite, Nina Garrett, Gigi Clark, Aleena Branson, Sharon Lynn Amable, and Donna Lee Jones.

The winner will be known after judges complete tallies of evening gown, swimsuit, and talent points.

VanderHule speaks of "high interest" in the colorful pageant and foresees this year's production as the "best in the 12-year history" of the show.

Musical direction will be by Jack Fisher, whose orchestra will play during the 2½-hour pageant.

A special stage has been designed by Dennis King.

Miss Pacifica of 1967, Miss Teddi Higgins, will present the crown to her successor.

R.E.A.C.T. Stages Team Drill Here

Members of R.E.A.C.T. of the Golden Gate Area, a volunteer organization of citizens band radio owners who provide emergency communications facilities, held their annual team drill Saturday on San Bruno Mountain.

About 25 members of the local R.E.A.C.T. (Radio Emergency Associated Citizens Team) group participated in the exercises, which included equipment checkouts, rescue procedure and first aid practice.

Organized four years ago as part of a nationwide network involving 1,400 volunteer teams, R.E.A.C.T. of the Golden Gate Area has provided emergency assistance to freeway commuters and ships at sea in situations ranging from "matters of life and death" to minor inconveniences.

"Our primary function is to provide a formal place for citizens band operators to call when emergencies arise," Ron Hull, a charter member of the group, said this week.

To this end, R.E.A.C.T. members have renovated an abandoned Nike missile site on San Bruno Mountain to house their "formal station."

Volunteer radio operators man the station from 4 p.m. until midnight week days, and around-the-clock on weekends.

"Some of our members have contributed as much as 300 hours of their spare time during the past year," Hull said.

To remain "members in good standing," R.E.A.C.T. volunteers are required to contribute 144 hours each year to the operation, he said.

Most of the R.E.A.C.T. members are also affiliated with Civil Defense and Red Cross organizations, Hull said, and about 70

The Times and Post also are featuring a five-day series of foreign adventure starting April 21.

The series will be concluded April 27 with a reproduction of each of the previous daily presentations.

Schools Week

Daly City's mayor, Bernard (Bud) Lycett, has proclaimed the week of April 22 to 26 as Public Schools Week.

San Bruno Freeway Bid Opening Set for May 1

Bids will be opened in Sacramento on May 1 for a contract to construct 2.3 miles of eight-lane freeway on Interstate 280 (Junipero Serra Freeway) between 0.4 mile south of San Bruno Avenue in San Bruno and 0.2 mile south of Arroyo Drive in South San Francisco. A total of $7,962,700 has been allocated for the project by the California Highway Commission, including a contribution of $62,700 by the City of San Bruno for certain relocation and improvements of water and sewer lines to be accomplished in this contract.

Interchange facilities will be constructed along with connections to local roads at the intersection with future Route 186. Construction of an undercrossing for San Bruno Avenue traffic and an overcrossing for Sneath Lane traffic are included in the project and a aprtial interchange will be constructed at the intersection with Avalon Drive in South San Francisco. About 28 months will be required to complete the work after award of the contract.

The portions of Junipero Serra Freeway at either end of this project have already been constructed and are now in traffic service (Larkspur Drive to San Bruno Avenue and Arroyo Drive to Eastmoor Avenue in Daly City).

Serramonte Discussion Set By Westlake Group

The Westlake Citizens' Steering Committee has scheduled a meeting of area citizens for 8 p.m., Thursday, at the Fernando Rivera Elementary School on Lake Merced Boulevard, Daly City.

Dr. Sanford A. Marcus, the group's leader, said the meeting will be to discuss the committee's continued opposition to Jefferson High School District's plan to proceed with construction and staffing of Serramonte High School.

The committee is opposing the school, and Marcus pointed out this week that the committee's "conditions" for ending what he called a "needless rift between the taxpayers and the board" include stopping of all implementation of the Serramonte plan until after the summer vacation.

SSF Summer Classes Set June-August

E. D. Pitcock, principal for the 1968 Elementary Summer School program in South San Francisco, announces classes will begin June 24 and will continue through August 2. Thursday, July 4, is a holiday.

Class hours will be from 8:30 a.m. until noon, Monday through Friday. If enrollment warrants adequate location, classes will be held at Buri Buri for all children residing within the attendance boundaries serviced by Serra Vista, Buri Buri and El Rancho Schools.

Ponderosa School for all children residing within the attendance boundaries serviced by Avalon, Ponderosa, Sunshine Gardens and Los Cerritos Schools. Eillside School for all children residing within the attendance boundaries serviced by Hillside, Spruce, and Martin Schools. Foxridge School for all children residing within the attendance boundaries serviced by Foxridge, Monte Verde and Skyline Schools.

All students who are presently enrolled in grades two through six and reside in the South San Francisco Unified School District may attend. Regular attendance is inperative.

Principal Pitcock requests parents refrain from registering their children if they will miss more than three (3) days of the summer session. Should there be conflicting dates because of family activities, parents and children should choose between summer school and other activities. Parents are responsible for transportation during summer school days.

Registration forms must be completed and returned to the regular classroom teacher by April 19, 1968. After this date students will be placed on a waiting list and accepted in classes only as vacancies occur. Waiting list applicants will be notified if there is an opening. Please don't telephone the schools concerned.

An improvement program for grades 5-8 will be a total of four courses — Reading, Language Arts and Mathematics plus an elective such as Dramatics, Arts and Crafts, Music Appreciation and Choral Singing of Science.

per cent of the volunteers are proficient in first aid.

"There are approximately 20,000 citizens band radios registered in the Bay Area," Hull said. "With most of these on the road during peak traffic periods, we are able to provide a great deal of assistance which would not otherwise be available."

He said R.E.A.C.T. assistance includes providing rapid communications to police and ambulance stations when accidents occur, aiding stranded motorists "and attempting to help in nearly any other kind of emergency imaginable."

Members have answered 495 calls for assistance thus far this year, he said, "four or five of which involved 'life or death' situations."

The San Bruno Mountain station and other equipment are maintained through funds from membership dues, and money raised at the organizations annual "Coffee Breaks."

The next coffee break will be held April 27 at the San Bruno Marine Corps Reserve Center on El Camino Real, from 6 p.m. until midnight. A one-dollar contribution covers the cost of coffee and food, Hull said, and the public is invited to attend.

Jim Marsala of South San Francisco and Arnie Fromme, San Francisco, are co-chairmen of the R.E.A.C.T. group.

Don Moran, South San Francisco, is current treasurer; Tony DiSalvo, San Bruno, is communications officer; Pat DiSalvo is secretary and Stan Scovill of South San Francisco is Sergeant at Arms.

stated intention of renting the space to other advertisers.

The first client was to have been a San Mateo Restaurant, according to company spokesmen.

The present sign has been utilized in recent weeks to present an anti-Vietnam war message.

In seeking to have the planning commission denial overthrown, Coppocioli argued that the sign, located at 619 Airport is not adjacent to the Bayshore Freeway, and would not be subject to the landscaping regulations "even if the Bayshore is someday declared a landscaped highway."

However, Pass said the federal regulations apply to billboard sign "within clear view of landscaped freeways," and the signs do not have to adjoin the right-of-way.

Jeff Panel Works on Racial Tensions

By WENDY WOOLERY
Jefferson High Student

The Jefferson High School's Human Relations Committee, responsible for keeping racial and social tensions at a bare minimum, has been on the go in past weeks.

Most recently the 50 - plus members of the committee went to Sequoia High School to see the Negro History Club's production, "A Voice in the Crowd."

The club and the production are rather unique, since neither of them are seen in many schools.

The program featured readings and recitations of poems and stories telling a fragment of the history of the Afro-American in America.

The main theme of the show was that there is hope in the hearts of the Spanish-American, the Filipino, the Chinese-American, as well as the Afro-American, "that the United States will eventually become the country it was intended to be."

The cast consisted of seven Negro students at Sequoia, two Caucasian students from Sequoia.

Guest performances were from the Askey Interpretive Dancer from San Francisco, Mrs. Pricilla Askey, Mrs. Gloria Skinner, Miss Helen Dillworth (the San Francisco winner of the Metropolitan Opera Audition), and the Beth Eden Youth Choir from Oakland.

On April 3, they appeared on College of San Mateo television to discuss the situation at Jefferson in relation to racial tension.

Seven students participated. They were: Madlyn Norman, Tony Moss, Michelle O'Connor, Sook Son, Rich Ballerini, Dorothy Redmond, and Sharon Fisher.

Interdenominational Little Theatre Unit Organized

An interdenominational little theatre group called "The Ecumenical Players" has been organized in the North County Area.

According to Geraldine Stegman, founder of the group, the main purpose of "The Ecumenical Players" will be to use the form of dramatic entertainment as a witness to their faith and belief.

Goals of the group include:

Development of a repertory of inspirational plays which may be performed for any church or religious group when requested and available on a 24 hour notice.

Devolopment of an on-going program of entertaining plays, monologues, pantomises and improvisations to be presented for the public at regular intervals.

Presentation of opportunity for new plays by known or unknown writers.

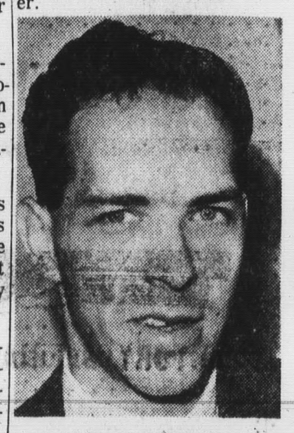
Entertainment, as well as presentation of a basis for thought and discussion.

Creation of a showcase for current social problems.

A training program in pantomime, improvisation, monologues and skits will begin on Friday at 7 p.m. at Aldersgate Methodist Church, 115 El Campo Drive, South San Francisco.

The presentation of programs for churches, religious groups and the prblic are now in the planning stage with the first performance scheduled in early fall.

Anyone interested in the purpose and goals of "The Ecumenical Players" should contact Dee Dombroski at Aldersgate.



JOHN CUNNINGHAM, the manager of the Montgomery Ward outlet in South San Francisco, has been with the firm for over 10 years, starting as an operating supervisor in the Oakland store. Prior to assuming the South San Francisco store, he was district agency development manager, and previously managed catalog sales in the Oakland retail store.

Car Wash Wins OK

A use permit for a new coin-operated car wash on El Camino Real was approved by South San Francisco councilmen Monday, subject to a number of conditions recommended by City Attorney John Noonan.

The council earlier appealed a planning commission decision approving the use permit, after Noonan expressed fears the new business could become a "neighborhood nuisance" unless certain precautions were taken.

Among the conditions imposed Monday were a provision that a supervisor be on hand at the car wash during all hours of operation.

If left unattended, this operation could cause quite a noise problem" the city attorney said.

The car wash will be located on the west side of El Camino Real between Arroyo Drive and Del Paso Drive, adjacent to a residential section.

The site is situated in a "C-1" neighborhood commercial distict.

City Planner Daniel Pass said the car wash is a new automated type, and customers will not be required to leave their cars for service.

Placement Tests Soon

English placement tests and aptitude tests for students planning to enroll in summer English courses at College of San Mateo or in the fall semester at either Canada College or College of San Mateo will be given Saturdays during April and May, starting April 20 in the student center.

Jefferson Asks Probe

Trustees of the Jefferson High School District have called for an investigation "of the underlying motives" of the Westlake Citizens Steering Committee.

The district's request was in the same letter that was sent to Governor Reagan last week endorsing the Steering Committee's appeal for a "thorough investigation" of "quality and expense of education" in the district, as well as factors surrounding Serrmonte high school site selection.

The letter to the Governor stated:

'Tht Board of Trustees and the professional staff of this district urge that you immediately begin the requested investigation covering in detail all the Marcus (Dr. Sanford A. Marcus is the leader of the CSC) allegations, plus an investigation of the underlying motives of Dr. Marcus and the group he claims to represtnt."

Signed by the board chairman, Raymond J. Milton, the letter charged the Marcus group with "hampering" efforts "by refusal to accept numerous explanations of reasons, and now the matter has become highly emotional."

The communication explained that the "Marcus group request specifically emanates over the decision to change existing boundary lines to alleviate overcrowding at two of our existing high schools, to move students from an area where the complainant group lives to the new school, and to more effectively integrate three district schools."

It further noted:

"All of our schools (five) were recently (June 1966) granted a full five-year accreditation by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. The Bureau of School Planning and the Department of General Services since 1957 have collaborated on site selection and construction."

Trustees charged that "these continued and unfounded charges invoke an irreparable negative image on our district and staff that will take years to amend."

Oceana Hi Paper Is 'All-American'

The Oceana Breakers, Oceana High School's student newspaper has been judged "All-American," the highest honor that can go to a high school paper in the United States, by the National Scholastic Press Association at the University of Minnesota.

The NSPA which judges sevtral thousand papers from throughout the country, comments on the paper:

"The Breakers is an excellent well-rounded paper, one that keeps the students informed about the student and community scene.'

They also found the news coverage, features, layout, and editorials to be particularly strong. Weak points include photos and typography.

Concerning the rating, Miss Ann Sweeney, publications advisor stated, "Of course, we are ecstatic. It is a signal honor not only to the staff of the paper but to the entire school. This is the third time we have entered the paper in NSPA competition. The first time we received second-class, the second time, a first-class rating, and now, All-American. Our task is now to maintain the rating, a task which is not too easy to do.

Editor - in - Chief of the award - winning paper was Tom Heckmann, now a freshman at the University of California. Other key staff members include Denise Kermabon, David Benton, John Crljenko, Nena-Joy Almodovar, Debbie Gaylord, Karen Billett, Debbie Von Ritter and Linell Dietz.

Car Wash Zoning Request Is Denied

Application of Thomas J. Callan for rezoning to permit construction of an automatic car wash and gas station on Eighty-seventh Street adjoining the city limits of Daly City was denied last week by the Planning Commission.

The property is presently zoned commercial (C-1) but he proposed use required a "heavier" classification (C-2).

The planning staff recommended against the use, contending that it would be incompatible with the apartment building on adjoining property and with the new City Hall three blocks away on Ninetieth Street. Daly City had requested that the application be denied.

"With the completion of the new City Hall," the commission staff's report states, "the city has been endeavoring to upgrade the surrounding area by encouraging professional offices and other related uses in the area to complement its government center."

Capuchino Making Plans For Commencement Rites

A graduation committee began its planning in February to insure seniors a graduation ceremony which will be one of the most memorable experiences of their lives. The three student speakers were selected by the senior class during a graduation information assembly. They are senior class president Doug Jacobs, Karen Burke and Jamie Horsley. Robert McLean, journalism and English teacher, will instruct the speakers.

The student speakers first met with the eleven faculty members of the graduation committte on Thursday, March 7. They discussed what graduation represents to parents and students, and exchanged suggetsions on how to hold the best possible graduation. Almost everyone was in favor of having a shorter ceremony this year; therefore, only two main speeches will be given instead of three.

Doug Jacobs, as senior president, will give the class gift and welcoming address.

The three students have spent the last few weeks brainstorming with Mr. McLean and pouring over past graduation speeches to get ideas. The first major deadline is April 22 when an outline of the speeches will be due for approval. On April 30 the students will make their first oral presentation, when each committee member will have a dittoed copy of the speeches. During the week after Easter vacation a theme will be chosen. Art department chairman Mr. Valentine can then give his art students a guideline for designing the graduation announcement cover.

Graduation committee members are: Robert Magginetti, chairman, Mrs. Edna Chipman, Mrs. Sally Gallagher, Mrs. Dagny Golladay, Mrs. Billei Hallberg, Robert McLean, Allen Rasmussen, Ken Ton, and Frank Valentine.

Seniors will begin to feel the closeness of graduation when they spend noon hour on April 17 and 18 ordering caps and gowns and receive graduation announcements on April 27.

CHARGE IT! no money down when you use our flexible charge plan

We'd be happy to help break up your home.

Nobody makes home improvement loans more painless than us: nothing down, and as long as eight years to pay. (That eight-year provision can be quite a boon. For instance, adding a $3000 bedroom-and-bath, or a $3000 kitchen, would set you back $97.08 a month if you repay in 36 months. But only $45.00 a month repaying in eight years.)

Don't touch that mortgage. We make loans for home improvements completely separate from your existing home mortgage. We don't go into long, complicated refinancing, we don't flail around in red tape. We make it no more complicated, once you contact us, than getting a car loan.

The fine print. Our maximum home improvement loan is $7500—which can add a lot of house to your house. On loans over $2000, our charge is $5.50 per $100 per year.

Today's Special. We push home improvement loans like they were on special every day. (Some banks consider them one big headache.) And we don't stand on ceremony, even though we're a $900 million bank. We'll even quote payments over the phone, in case you and your wife are considering being home wreckers, and are just wondering how far you can afford to go.

County Share Of Auto Tax $1.8 Million

SACRAMENTO — San Mateo County will receive more than $1.8 million as its share of an advance payment in lieu of taxes for auto registrations.

State Controller Houston I. Flournoy announced the allocation of approximately 75 per cent of the 1968 fees including $345,418 for San Mateo. In addition to the county funds local communities will receive more than $2.1 million in license fees.

Flournoy said that the remainder of the 1968 funds will be allocated in June.

Other communities and the amount they will receive include:

Atherton, $36,408; Belmont, $100,506; Brisbane, $19,516; Burlingame, $117,947 Colma, $2,180; Daly City, $284,438; Half Moon Bay, $13,735; Hillsborough, $37,608; Menlo Park, $129,938.

Millbrae, $92,003; Pacifica, $147,379; Portola Valley, $23,415; Redwood city, $253,772; San Bruno, $161,551; San Carlos, $112,279; South San Francisco, $203,410 and Woodside, $19,468.

2 FIRE BOMBS THROWN

Fire bombs were thrown through windows of two Daly City grocery stores, at nearly the same time, though more than a mile apart.

According to Daly City fire and police authorities, the victims were the Spring Valley market at 198 Los Banos Street and the New Westlake market at 398 Templeton.

A fire department source said a front door window of the Spring Valley store was smashed about 10:17 p.m., with the bomb and setting fire to items on a sundry rack.

At 10:19 firemen rushed to the New Westlake market, where packages of cookies on a shelf were ignited after a "fire ball" in a bottle was thrown through the store's big front window.

Action Pledged By Councilmen

Pacifica Councilmen joined other city government bodies Wednesday night in "expressing regret over the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr."

The council resolution also pledged "positive and constructive action this time of grief and potential national crisis."

$200,000 Suit Is Filed For Pacifica Boy

A $200,000 suit for damages has been filed on behalf of a Pacifica boy who was badly hurt at play last November 19.

The suit, filed in Superior Court in Redwood City by Mrs. Lorraine E. Hazen, 37 Point Reyes Way, Pacifica, states that her son, Raymond, 8, sustained "severe and permanent" injuries when he fell from a makeshift swing.

According to the complaint the defendant, Terry Schnicker, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schnicker, rigged a rope and pulley to a tree limb 20 feet above the ground and was hoisting Raymond and other children in a gunny-sack. The boy fell, the suit states, and tumbled down a steep hill.

The document states that the victim has been unable to return to school and is being taught at home by a tutor.

Mrs. Hazen asks $150,000 for the boy's injuries and an additional $50,000 in punitive damages.

"IT'S A SMALL WORLD," is the theme or the fashion show luncheon being sponsored by Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mothers Club at noon on Saturday at Bertolucci's in South San Francisco. Crestmoor In Open House On April 23

Crestmoor Elementary School open house will be April 23 at 9 p.m. This is the night children bring their parents to school with them to view their classrooms and meet teachers. In addition to the usual items seen and explained, the parents are invited to visit the Art Fair on display in the auditorium.

The Art Fair is Crestmoor's contribution to Public Schools Week scheduled from Monday, April 22 through Friday, April 26. Each grade level, from kindergarten through the fifth grade, will be represented, thus permitting an interesting comparison of abilities of students of different ages. Every type of art will be represented. Printings of several types, tissue paper collages, covered bottles, raffia crafts, huge five-foot tall papier-mache animals, paper strip, wool and string designs, water colors, stitchery, murals chalk designs, clay sculpture, mobiles, and many other items involving a high degree of ingenuity and ability will be shown. Free standing display boards will be used to further enhance the display of many of the crafts.

All teachers and children have worked conscientiously, and enthusiastically to make the Art Fair a huge success. Parents are encouraged to attend.

Boys Have Day at Mercy

As the only males among 850 females, three Westmoor High School representatives, Student Body President Don Weiden, Vice President Charlie Freiberg, and Junior Class President Bob Joyce spent the day attending classes and eating lunch at Mercy High, March 18.

Earlier in March, Mercy High Vice President Karen Carrillo and sophomore class president Stephanie Chapralis visited Westmoor observing both classes and student council operations in an effort to improve their student government.

As noted by Don Weiden, president of a 2,400-member student body, marked differences in discipline, activities, and curriculum were found at Mercy, due to its relatively small student body, they decided.

"The combination of education, good food and good-looking girls, made the day totally worthwhile," commented Charlie Freiberg, vice president of Westmoor Student Body.

Dance Class On Coastside

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department is taking sign-ups for the new beginner Ballroom Dance class, which is to start Wednesday, April 24, at Linda Mar School. The class, taught by Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Castlilo, will cover the basic dances of the fox trot, chacha, and swing.

Class is scheduled at 7:30 and will run for a six week session.

Registration fee of $7.50 per couple is currently being taken at the recreation department office, at City Hall, 170 Santa Maria Avenue.

It will be the central event of the evening and the culmination of the program.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By DONALD C. WAITE

ONE DEFECT WHICH MANY HOMEOWNERS OVERLOOK

We have often seen homes which are furnished attractively enough, but have one serious defect: The furniture does not fit. That is, it doesn't fit the room or the people who use it most.

In your living room, is your cocktail table so large that it is difficult to get to use your safa?

Are there enough passage areas in the right places in your rooms? Are the pieces the right sizes for your rooms?

Are your sofas and chairs so low or deep that you have trouble getting up, or are they so high that your feet dangle from them?

The way to avoid this is to "Try it before you buy it."

Do you realize most people spend more time in bed than on any other piece of furniture so it is obviously important to get the right size and comfort in bedding. Every bedding manufacturer makes mattresses with several degrees of firmness which are available in regular or extra length, queen or king size for extra width in innerspring or foam rubber.

It's hard to believe that some people will buy a sofa or chair or bedding without trying to see if it really fits, or if it is actually comfortable to them—but surprisingly this does happen in some places.

So, before you buy, make certain your furniture fits you, your family and your room; and we take extra care to help you make sure it does.

Coyote Point Camp

Handicapped children of San Mateo County will be invited to enjoy a real campaing experience this summer at Coyote Point in San Mateo.

Children over 7 years of age with any or multiple handicaps will participate in supervised hiking, swimming, fishing, singing, crafts, nature study and cookouts five days a week from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. during a two-week session in August.

The first session for south county children will run from August 5 through 16; the second session for north county children will be from August 19 through 30. The program is sponsored by the San Mateo United Cerebral Palsy Association, Inc.; the Society for Crippled Children and Adults of San Mateo County, Inc., and the Peninsula Association for Retarded Children and Adults of San Mateo County.

The registration deadline for either session is June 1. Further information and applications may be obtained from Mrs. Philip Sonenstein, chairman of the Day Camp for the Handicapped, Box 1203, Burlingame, 94010.

The program is 10 years old, and arrangements have been made with the cooperation of the San Mateo Park and Recreation Department. Transportation for the children will be furnished daily from established pick-up points.

Individuals and organizations have been urged to contribute toward camperships (scholarships) which provide these activities for many handicapped children who otherwise cannot attend.

Modeling will be taught by Mrs. Lana Federico, the former Miss Lana Green, who was Miss San Francisco of 1961.

After becoming Miss San Francisco, Lana continued modeling. She married and the Federicos then moved to Baja, California.

Lana now is affiliated with Grimme's Model Agency and School of Fashion Modeling.

Modeling classes will be held on Tuesday evenings from 7 to 9 in the social room at 45 Southgate Avenue, Daly City.

Classes begin April 30.

Jaime Collaco is the YWCA's tennis instructor. He was the junior amateur champion of Brazil.

At the present time he is a student at San Francisco State College.

Tennis is to be offered each Saturday on Daly City courts.

Tennis I is scheduled from 10 to 11 a.m. and Tennis II from 11 to noon.

Classes will begin April 20.

Alexander Hoyer will hold astromomy classes each Thursday evening from 7 to 10 with classes to start April 18.

Hoyer is known for having charted famous people and the stock market.

Chinese brush painting is being taught by Madeleine Fu and Chinese cooking taught by Linda Lew.

These classes also are to begin April 18, at the Westlake Baptist Community Church, Elmwood Drive and Southgate, Daly City, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Classes in guitar, bridge, trimnastics and other subjects will be starting immediately.

However, there is still space in all of these programs. For details contact the San Mateo YWCA at 375 South Mayfair, Room 217, at the Westlake Shopping Center, Daly City.

The San Mateo YWCA will commemorate PWCA Week, April 21 to 28, with a tour of the churches on Brotherhood Way, April 24.

This will start with a coffee hour at 9 a.m. at the Westlake Clubhouse, 149 Lake Merced Boulevard, Daly City. The tour will go to Holy Trinity Orthodox Church, Lake Merced Church of Christ, Temple Judea and St. Thomas Moore. Half an hour will be spent at each place.

THE POST FAMILY LIFE

A 'Generation Gap' Book Review Topic

The Friends of the Daly City Library will sponsor a book review at 10 a.m. on April 25 in the Coral Room of the Westlake Library, 275 Southgate Avenue.

The speaker will be Mrs. William Roay, who will talk about the generation gap as seen through the eyes of the young adults themselves.

She will talk about their feelings concerning peace, war, drugs, and the race problem.

Source material will be from the writings of such young protesters as Joan Baez, Le Roi Jones, and Stokley Carmichael. Without passing judgement, Mrs. Roay intends to show what the young people are saying themselves rather than what is being said about them.

Mrs. Roay is a graduate of San Francisco State College where she majored in English literature. She is a staff member of the library, where she does technical processing and is in charge of inter-library loans.

She and her husband are ardent hikers and as members of the Sierra Club, they are active in the furtherance of conservation programs, particularly the future plans for Grand Canyon.

Festival Theme

"Festival of the Islands" is the theme for the Annual Festival at St. Veronica's Parish in South San Francisco.

May 24, 25 and 26 are the dates set for this year's fun. The Reverend Paul P. Coleman has announced the appointment of John Harness as general chairman.

The rest of the group are William Jennings, co-chairman man; and Mrs. Michael O'Reilly, secretary.

The booths will be under the direction of E. Tempone and Mrs. Jerome Kalb.

Citizenship Challenge for Cadette Troop 140 Girls

By ROBIN STUHR
Cadette Scout

"To show that you understand how the rights of citizenship are balanced by the responsibilities, and how you can use this knowledge for the benefit of other people."

This is the challenge of active citizenship for which the girls of Cadette Troop 140 are striving.

Since the beginning of this school year their weekly meetings at Daniel Webster School have been geared toward achieving this goal. Besides doing research, having discussions and special interest groups, the girls have had several guest speakers involved with the government.

Charles Stuhr, an attorney; Mrs. Anna Ohlendorf, City Clerk of Daly City; Mrs. Jean Fassler, county supervisor from Pacifica; Mrs. Winkle, social worker; a legislative representative of the C.S.A.A. and a member of the U.S. League of Women Voters were among those who gave their time and efforts to the Cadettes.

To top off their governmental study, the girls will be taking a trip to the state capitol at Sacramento to see the government in action.

From this trip they hope to gain some first hand information about their state and reward the efforts and interest of troop leaders.

Frank Benjamin was also featured as soloist in the "Me and My Shadow" number.

At the M. Pauline Brown School Installation of P-TA officers, the chorus repeated its performance. Edward Papke, a new member of the chorus, received a tremendous applause for singing "I'm in Love With Vienna."

All soloists were accompanied by Janet Holden.

Members of the chorus who performed were Mary King, Grace Moore, Peggy Benjamin, Ann Neves, Janet Gilmore, Kathy Wells, Lorie Smith, Ellamae Scholtz, Barbara Schori, Sam Silverman, Chester Smith, Frank Benjamin, Sidney Bronstein, Larry Anderson and Edward Papke.

Janet Gilmore, announced, that the chorus is preparing for its Spring Concert.

Hamming It Up

Good morning, good cooks.

I know what kind of recipe you are looking for now, one that uses jelly beans, chocolate bunnies and hardcooked eggs. Sorry about that. Of course the hard cooked eggs can be used in salads, in sandwiches and are delicious served in a white sauce over hot biscuits. As for the jelly beans and chocolate bunnies, the younger members of your family will be glad to dispose of them for you I'm sure.

Many of us served ham for Easter dinner and now have the deicious remains. There are many ways you can use up ham, I usually put it through the meat grinder along with celery, carrots and onion, add mayonnaise and a bit of horseradish. This makes a delicious ham salad, good in sandwiches or as a luncheon salad.

If you prefer a hot dish, give these ham croquettes a try.

HAM CROQUETTES

2 cups finely chopped ham
½ cup chopped mushrooms, canned or cooked
1 teaspoon snipped parsley
1 teaspoon minced onion
1 cup thick white sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
Pepper
½ teaspoon lemon juice
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon water
1 cup fine dried bread crumbs
Oil for frying

Combine the two cups ham, one-half cup mushrooms, one teaspoon each parsley and minced onion, one cup white sauce, one fourth teaspoons salt, pepper and one-half teaspoon lemon juice. Mix well. Spread on a plate or shallow pan and chill until firm enough to handle. Mold in cone shape.

Add the one tablespoon water to the slightly beaten egg. Roll croquettes first in the one cup bread crumbs. Dip in egg and water mixture, then roll in bread crumbs again. Make sure all surfaces are well coated. Then return to refrgierator and chill again. This sets the coating and makes them fry nicer.

Fry in deep fat at about 375-degrees, turning occasionally for five to six minutes or until golden brown. Remove and drain on paper towels. This makes eight croquettes. Serve with sauce of your choice.

Here is the recipe for the thick white sauce called for in this dish.

THICK WHITE SAUCE

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Dash of paprika
1 cup milk

In the top of a double boiler or in a heavy saucepan over low heat, melt the four tablespoons butter, add the four tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and paprika. Stir until well blended and smooth. Slowly add the one cup milk, stirring constantly so the sauce will be smooth. Cook, still stirring for about three minutes. Set aside to coo just a bit and then combine with the meat and seasonings.

Another hot ham dsih that uses up that last bit of ham, is this delicious sandwich puff. This is ideally suited to a luncheon, so if you have the ladies coming this week, gve it a try.

HAM AND SWISS CHEESE SANDWICH PUFF

2 cups ground cooked ham (about one pound)
2 cups grated Swiss cheese (½ lb.)
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
12 slices white bread, toasted
6 eggs
½ tablespoon Worchestershire sauce
2¼ cups milk

Combine the two cups ground ham and the two cups grated cheese. Blend in the one-half cup mayonnaise and one tablespoon mustard. Spread on six of the toast slices; put together with remaining toast to make sandwichs. Cut each diagonally into quarters; stand, crust edge down in a buttered baking dish 13x9x2 inches.

Beat the six eggs slightly, add the one-half tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and the two and one-fourth cups milk. Beat all together and pour over sandwiches. Cover and chill at least four hours or overnight.

Bake in slow oven (325-degrees) 35 minutes or just until custard sets. To serve, cut between sandwiches; lift onto serving plates with wide spatula.

Nothing goes better with a luncheon entree like these sandwich puffs, than a pretty molded salad. This spicy raisin mold is delicious and the combination of pineapple, raisins, and spices give it a unique and different flavor.

SPICY RAISIN SALAD

1 cup raisins
1 can pineapple, crushed or tidbits (13½ oz.)
1 pkg. lemon gelatin
½ teaspoon whole cloves
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

Drain the can of pineapple and divide fruit into eight custard cups or individual molds. Add enough water to the pineapple juice to make two cups liquid; add the one cup raisins and the one-half teaspoon whole cloves, one-fourth teaspoon each ginger and ground cinnamon. Bring to a boil; skim out cloves and add the one package lemon gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Pour into molds. Chill. Serve topped with sour cream or any fruit salad dressing.

You may finish off your luncheon with this easy and delicious dish.

EASY BANANA CAKE

4 large ripe bananas
Vanilla wafers
½ pint whipping cream

In a nine-inch square pan, place a layer of vanilla wafers. On these place a layer of sliced bananas. Spread with chipped cream. Repeat wafers, bananas and whipped cream. Cover with foil and refrigerate at least six hours. Serve small portions, it's mighty and mighty good!

LOUANNE HEATH'S DATEBOOK

A Temporary Lull in Club Activities

Passover and Easter celebrations occupied most residents this past week and club activities slipped into a temporary lull as people enjoyed a brief spring vacation and family get togethers.

MEMBERS of the Art Guild of Pacifica took advantage of the recent sunny weather to begin collecting items for the Spring Festival of the Arts to be held on May 11 and 12 at the Sanchez Adobe.

Mrs. Jeri Allyne is the general chairman of the festival and she has sent out an S.O.S. for assistance in obtaining enough plastic flowers, fish nets and Hawaiian type decorations to set the festival's mood at the adobe and on the surrounding grounds. Persons having appropriate things to lend may call Mrs. Allyne at 359-1063.

This annual event continues to grow in size and the visitors who come one year nearly always return the next, bringing with them new visitors.

Very gratifying to the members of Pacifica's hard working guild and other local groups that assist, but the festival's growth has been coupled with an increase in the amount of effort required to stage the displays and give the demonstrations. Currently Mrs. Allyne and her co-chairman, Mrs. Lucille Sutherlin, are seeking volunteers to carry exhibit flats and set up the show on Friday night, ladies to hand paintings and put up the decorations early Saturday morning, persons willing to hang posters and artists willing to take part in the art in Action demonstrations.

MRS. EDNA LAUREL CALHAN reports that the members of the Fifty-Plus Club will be leaving on Monday morning for a five day tour of death Valley to see the desert in bloom.

Pacifica members will be leaving the City Hall in Pacifica at 7:30 a.m. and Westlake people may board the bus when it arrives at the stop across the street from Joe's of Westlake, a few minutes later.

HOME FROM A WEEK'S visit with relatives and friends in the Los Angeles area are Mr. and Mrs. James Lederer of Westlake and their daughter, Rita.

EASTER VACATION provided the opportunity for Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Demler and sons Mark and Lance to visit relatives in Long Beach. The annual sojourn to the southland provided the family with an opportunity to see what changes the year has brought to Disneyland.

VISITING THE NORTH PENINSULA during Easter vacation were Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Canutt and daughters, Caroline AND Patricia.

The family is preparing to move to this area from their home near Requa, California.

THOMAS DOOLEY, Westlake's track and field star and Olympic hopeful, is recovering from a serious cut on the foot which he suffered when he stepped on some broken glass during a practice jaunt around Lake Merced.

MR. AND MRS. ROBSRT MORFORD have returned from several days resting in the Sierra County retreat.

AMONG THE CONTINGENT of localites who watched the MASC production of Eyes Upon The Cross at Lakeside Presbyterian Church last Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Intemann and Mrs. Fred Wright.

COUNCIL OF PTA'S TO DINE

Once a year the Jefferson Council of P-TA's takes a day off from its many duties and enjoys a little relaxation.

The annual Council luncheon will be April 29, and all P-TA members are invited to attend.

The luncheon will be at the New Southern Restaurant in South San Francisco and Mrs. Clifford Lipson is the chairman.

This enjoyable occasion always draws a good turnout and it is advisable to send your reservations, checks and menu choice to Mrs. Lipson, 74 Avalon Drive, Daly City, before April 22.

The menu choice is the Chef's Special or Chicken Salad, as well as dessert and coffee.

Presbyterian Women Plan Spring Tea

Once again the executive board of the United Presbyterian Women of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church in Daly City is busy making final preparations for their annual Spring Tea. This is the one social event put on by the UPW each year amidst their many activities and meetings of service and study.

This year the tea will be held on Thursday, May 2, between 2 and 4 p.m. in the social hall of the church located at 377-78th Street in Daly City. The theme will be Fashions and Fabrics with Mrs. Betty Blanchard of Leiter Fabrics displaying and speaking about fine fabrics and their uses. In addition, Mrs. Gordon Stone, vice president of the UPW and general chairman for the tea, announces that a fashion show of outstanding homemade garments will be modeled by their creators among the organization's membership.

Mrs. James Hamilton, president of the local UPW invited all women of the community to attend.

Others of the executive board assisting Mrs. Stone in the preparations for the tea are Mrs. A. E. Anderberg, program; Mrs. Philip Theuner, kitchen, assisted by Mesdames Harry Peaslee and Stanley Barkman; Mrs. Carlos Mattson and Mrs. Russell Brabec, tea tables; Mrs. Robert Mattson and Mrs. Charles Sobieck, decorations; Mrs. Stephen Chesley, fabric corsages; Mrs. Karl Ostberg, invitations, and Mrs. H. C. Tweedie, publicity.

Honored guests at the tea will be past presidents of the organization.

'Art Appreciation' Chosen As Webster P-TA Theme

"Art Appreciation" is the topic for the program at the Daniel Webster P-TA unit meeting, April 17, at 8 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Helen Cordell, who is the art consultant of the Jefferson Elementary District.

Mrs. Cordell will show some of the paintings and art projects that have been done by students and teachers in the district and she will tell of the physcological aspect behind student art.

The new officers for the Daniel Webster P-TA will also be installed at this meeting by Mrs. Jack Mitchell.

Officers to be seated are Mrs. L. Johnson, president; Mrs. R. Tognoli, vice president; Mrs. L. Bostwick, honorary vice president; Mrs. D. Pierce, corresponding secretary; William Sowl, treasurer; D. Pierce, auditor; Mrs. G. Liola, historian, and E. Bloom, parliamentarian.

The P-TA recently sponsored a "successful" theatrical event for the students of Daniel Webster.

The Children's Repretory Theater of San Francisco State presented "The Man who Killed Time" for the chillren of the lower division and "The Birthday of the Infanta" by Oscar Wilde to the upper division.

Following the performances, the actors entered the classrooms and talked with the students about the program and acting.

A luncheon was provided and served to the artists by the P-TA.

'I Told You So...'

VACATION WEATHER — Look out the window now that all the political smog has cleared. Beautiful balmy days — Vacation Weather. Kids rarin' to get out of school. Travel Agents sending us loads of brochures telling us to fly, walk or crawl to Canada's British Columbia, or down to Howard Hughe's Las Vegas (sorry about that Dell Webb). Regardless of which way you go the place will be covered with green.

Meanwhile, back at my battered typewriter: I'm still collecting bets on the outcome of the recent races. I don't like to tell you all "I told you so ....." but I sure did!

Surprising vote-getter in the North County was one City Treasurer candidate who did not even campaign, had no signs up, asked to be taken off the ballot — Henry Angerbauer. Incumbent Joe Lewkowitz DID win. But in his own backyard Angerbauer grabbed 32 per cent of the vote and actually BEAT Lewkowitz in precinct YY (Fernwood Avenue district).

DALY CITY ROTARIANS turned out for Easter services aboard the carrier USS Hancock berthed at Hunter's Point Sunday. Newly-appointed Commodore James Grealish (USNR) had invited his fellow-Rotarians to the services.

AND AL BELOTZ has got his wires crossed on the TITLE of Commodore. Last Week Belotz jokingly let it be known that "the rank of Commodore was abolished many years ago." That's a No-No, Belotz. Fact is, the RANK of Commodore is a wartime rate (equal to a one-star general), but the Navy has never abolished the TITLE of Commodore.

OBSERVERS WAGERING that the unpopular Daly City Residency Requirement will be either (1) abolished, or (2) modified. More than likely the latter.

RESTAURANTEUR Frank (TOTO) Spaderella "bombed" during his singing debut at victory celebrations in the Skyline Plaza headquarters for the Pacelli-Giammona council campaign the other p.m. After listening to Toto sing along with the rock band performing for the festivities, superior judge Frank Blum ventured: "I hope his pizzas are better." Back to slaving over those hot ovens.

LUNCH BAG MYSTERY — County Grand juror Ed Olsson is still investigating the "Lunch Bag Caper." Seems Ed and his wife packed along a bag full of chicken and tossed greens when they went with the Baccala Club to the opening game at Candlestick last week.

When Ed opened the bag mid-way during the game he found chicken bones and orange peels. He's wondering if there are any grounds for a Grand Jury investigation of the matter. We doubt it, Ed.

WHAT WOULD WE DO without those rumormongers? Latest is that Daly City Mayor Pro-tem Micheal DeBernardi will not be handed the reigns of city government as is customary. City councils alternate the mayor's post on an annual basis. Itwas DeBernardi's turn, but our tipper claims his upcoming race against Democratic Assemblyman Leo Ryan (Twenty-seventh District) has caused his fellow councilmen to block the gavel exchange. Time will tell.

Gold and Peace

The skepticism and misgiving with which the two-tier price system was first regarded when it was established a month ago seem to have abated.

France's President de Gaulle said it wouldn't work, but the action of the world's gold markets — which are the absolute authority — has not vindicated the general's stand.

Prices on the free market generally have been holding around $38 an ounce, only $3 above the U. S. fixed price of $35. The latter continues as the anchor stone for national currencies, not for individuals.

The action of the South African government in deciding not to sell to the speculators has aided greatly in stabilizing the price. South Africa produces more gold than the rest of the world combined.

Although Gen. de Gaulle may not approve, gold is now almost like any other commodity. Speculators and hoarders can have all they want — if they pay the going price.

Unlike last month's panic-buying which sent the price above $44 an ounce in Paris, demand now seems restrained.

Gold doesn't pay dividends. Many speculators who borrowed currency at high interest rates to buy the metal now are faced with the problem of selling at a loss or paying heavily for the privilege of ownership. Even the cost of storing gold is an expensive factor.

Since the London market reopened after a two-week cooling-off period, the free market price hovered closer to the official U.S. price. Even in France the price dropped to the lowest point since the Paris market became a free exchange in mid-March.

The two-price system and creation of a new reserve asset by the Stockholm conference of finance ministers to bolster the world monetary system have relieved the pressure on U. S. gold and the dollar. As a consequence, the dollar and the British pound have strengthened on the world's foreign exchange markets.

It would be unjustified optimism, however, to conclude that the U. S. dollar has moved permanently out of the danger zone. The U. S. government's fiscal affairs have not been improved.

Having an impact on restoration of the dollar's prestige are improved prospects for peace in Vietnam.

On Their Own Time

In Tokyo they storm an American hospital built to care for soldiers wounded in Vietnam. In places as widely separated ideologically as Warsaw and Madrid, they demonstrate against their governments.

Along the campaign trail in the United States, they desert classes to work for or "demonstrate" for their favorite candidates. All this intelligence is offered in the newspapers of a single day.

Adults will be forgiven if they come to the conclusion that the modern college student is doing everything except study. But, considering what college educations cost, this should be extracurricular activity.

Otherwise, it invites some painful reflections on tuition fees, endowment-fund contributions and taxes that adults are pouring out, at considerable sacrifice, to maintain institutions of higher learning and to meet never-ending demands for their expansion.

There ought to be ample time before and after classes for protest and demonstrations and expressions of discontent with the way things are. Otherwise, it is possible to foresee a time when legislators and trustees may conclude that access to these expensive plants must be restricted to those who care first of all about getting an education.

Taboo Subject

Hollywood making a movie about Lesbians might not have set as well as does the Claridge Pictures, Inc. release of "The Fox" currently at Cinema 21 in San Francisco.

The film adaptation of D. H. Lawrence's story about two young women living together on a farm in Canada where a disturbing young man invades their private life and dreams, is credited as being a Raymond Stross Motion Picture International Production, shot in and around Toronto, directed by Mark Rydell with music by Lalo Schifrin. It co-stars the producer's wife, Anne Heywood with Sandy Dennis and Keir Dullea. It merits seeing.

While its subject matter may horrify many people, the treatment of the sensitive and provocative story is excellent. The symbolism of the fox representing the male, therefore a potential enemy, might be overdone, especially when we're hit over the head with repeated double shots of the weasly little animal and Keir Dullea who comes back to the farmhouse where he grew up and stays on as handyman to the two new owners.

At first the story is carefree and tender. The girls work hard to make a small chicken farm pay. They treasure their independence and evenings by the fire, meals in the rustic kitchen, talking over the bills and their days at school. Except for a single erotic act (Miss Heywood in the bathroom), there is little indication that they are anything but close friends.

EVEN AFTER THE MALE INTRUDER'S PRESENCE causes an emotional rift between the two, it is long into the film before either of the girls declare their love for each other. Dullea makes a broad play for the more feminine partner and then, in a rather adroit but surprising switch, asks the more masculine one to marry him. I doubted his sincerity.

It may be part of the drama that the idyllic life the girls share was so shattered and marked with tragedy over the passing attentions of a transient seaman. But once the decision is made that Miss Heywood will leave with him the story becomes taut with passionate outbursts, and sexual involvement.

THE EXPLICITNESS OF THE DIRECTION, the frank encounter between the two girls when they kiss and two nude scenes involving Miss Heywood make this definitely an "Adults Only" picture. It is beautifully photographed, in DeLuxe color with gorgeous scenes of the snow covered farm, creeks and meadows. The story is not strongly written, nor is the dramatically changed screenplay. For that reason, motivation seems to be missing and ambivalence creeps into many scenes.

"The Fox" confirms my opinion that Sandy Dennis has only one character, which she plays over and over and over. I'd have rather seen a more versatile actress do something else with the role than catch her breath, blink and sniffle. Anne Heywood is not new to the screen but she certainly is attractive and a skillful performer.

Keir Dullea plays the intruder with a stoic calm that suggests he either didn't like the part, or didn't understand the direction or didn't like the actresses. He draws an emotional and dramatic blank but with a strong, virile presence.

Baseball Language

The season has started!

Baseball is king.

It's time to brush up on the language of America's greatest sport.

So get "aboard for a trip around the horn to the world series."

An ace is a top pitcher, a blue darter is a ball hit through the infield, the infield is the territory that includes the four bases and the area within them, but there is no strict ruling on where the infield ends and the outfield begins, a fielder's choice is the act of a fielder who throws a ground ball to some base other than first in an attempt to retire a runner already on a base.

When a player has been put out because his hit has been caught before it touched the ground he has flied out regardless of the grammar rules involved. When Willie Mays catches a ball at the waist, he has made a vest pocket catch. When he hits a fly that drops safely beyond the infield but in front of an outfielder, he has hit one of his famous Texas Leaguers.

All this information comes from a book entitled "Baseball Lingo" edited by Zander Hollander and illustrated by Jerry Schlamp.

The section on nicknames reveals that Charles Dillon Stengel became Casey because he came from Kansas City (K.C.) The Cy in Cy Young is a shortened form of a nickname he received because he threw so hard, Cyclone. Dizzy Dean, Bugs Raymond, Sad Sam Jones, Fats Fothergill, and Moose Skowron received their nicknames because of an obvious physical or mental characteristic.

PEE WEE RESSE got his nickname because he was once a marble champion, Bobo is a term for a player who is thought to be the manager's pet. Chico is a nickname for Spanish speaking players. Octopus is the term for a shortstop that seems to be all arms, an antelope is a second baseman.

A baseball shall weigh not less than 5 and not more than 5¼ ounces and must measure between 9 and 9¼ inches in circumference. The rules specify that the ball shall be a sphere formed by yarn wound around a small core of cork or rubber and covered with two strips of white horsehide tightly stitched together.

Many libraries place "Baseball Lingo" in the reference section near the Ronald Encyclopedia of Baseball.

This old standby answers virtually every question about baseball and its thousands of players from the Knickerbockers of 1845 to the present. Here are the histories of the various clubs, the records of the players who have hit 200 or more home runs in one season.

The section, entitled the best in pitching lists the leading pitchers for each season since 1876. It names all of the hurlers who have won 20 games for at least five seasons and all who won 20 games in just one season.

ALL STAR GAMES, rookie records, spectacular achievements, club organizations, births and hometowns of players, records, the Hall of Fame — like the man said, "virtually everything you want to know about baseball is found in the Ronald Encyclopedia."

At Half Speed

Bright or bleak, according to one's temperament, appears the future of Americans as envisaged by the Southern California Research Council.

By 1985, a scant 17 years from now, the council predicts we will be able to enjoy our present living standards by working only six months a year and retirement will be possible at age 38.

Those who find this prospect dismaying are, the council suggests, victims of the "So-called 'work ethic' — the claim that work is good for the soul."

The council implies that the soul couldn't care less and that what is needed to put all consciences at ease is a "substitute principle for the sanctity of work."

Well, there may be a bit more to it than that. The council reinforces fears about having too much spare time. It finds outdoor recreational facilities "wholly inadequate," libraries "understocked and understaffed," the performing arts in "serious financial trouble" and adult education a neglected area.

Moreover, the social scientists who themselves have a lot of fun earning a living by making the studies that produce such projections cannot seem to understand that many others actually enjoy their work, too.

For those who love labor for its own sake, the council offers a small measure of comfort. They will be able to double their income by working as they do now. But the way taxes — federal, state and local — are going, it may be labor lost.

Into The Air . . .

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 973 and the Daly City Police Department will conduct a bike licensing program April 27, from 9 a.m. until noon. Sounds like a good chance to learn some of the rules said riders are expected to know — especially the way some of 'em tool about the town!

MEMBERS of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce and their guests are all keyed up for that group's annual "Champagne Breakfast Flight" May 1, as part of the annual San Bruno "Aviation Week" activities. Aviation Week will start April 28 and run through May 4. Manager Larry Mobley says jet power'll be provided by Pan American Airways this year.

DR. SANFORD Marcus, leader of Westlake Citizens Steering Committee, the group opposing Serramonte High in Daly City, says he can't find any beneficial "underlying motive" for his action.

Trustees of Jefferson High District, who have endorsed the Committee's probe of its educational quality and costs, also want an investigation into the role of Marcus and his group.

Marcus says, in fact, there might be something in the legal vein forthcoming over the board's request of "motive." It depends. . . .

SEEMS TO US that this is a good time to bring up any matter of economy. With that state tax bite and all. That bit about taxes "should hurt" is the understatement of the year! Inflicting pain was one thing . . . maiming was still another . . . spreading a disease to such epidemic proportions was preposterous!

THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION of University Women will meet Monday at 8:30 p.m. at San Bruno Public Library, for "Focus on American Women" — a Bay Area panel made up of women of diverse backgrounds discussing varied and unusual insights into prejudices. Hopefully, the public will attend this discussion that will present a new slant on bias, according to Mrs. Nancy Price. Concerned, these women believe a basic step toward overcoming prejudice is to "get to know one another as individuals."

A 'Vanity Promotion'?

QUESTION: I received notice that my name would be inscribed in the National Register of Who's Who, Inc., Washington, D.C., upon the return of a card and my acceptance by the Board of Trustees. For a $10 fee I would receive an authorized engraved certificate for hanging in my home or office. Can you give me any information on this publications?

ANSWER: The Marquis Company, publishers of the recognized "Who's Who in America" has no connection with the publication. Persons solicited for inclusion in publications and reference works should secure information of the actual standing of the publication; review the last edition, if available, at the public library. The request for payment may indicate a vanity promotion of little or no value as a reference work.

QUESTION: I signed up for a free vacation from a new real estate development. Will there be extra expenses?

ANSWER: Many of the so-called free vacations have a service charge that must be paid before receiving a certificate. If you receive the certificate then it is quite possible that you must attend some special function followed by a high pressure sales pitch. Movies of developments that have been completed by other companies are sometimes shown to lead prospective buyers into believing the proposed development they are looking at will be quite similar. The real estate developers often fail to say when development of the land you might purchase will be ready for home construction. It is wise to check carefully proposed development of any land before purchasing. Sometimes developments are in marsh lands not accessible except by plane and often it must be by sea plane. California law requires a developer to give any prospective purchaser a copy of the state sbdivision report.

QUESTION: Just how free are films offered as part of the developing charges?

ANSWER: There may be a price reduction for the total package deal but nothing is "free" in the offer. When an advertiser regularly and continuously offers to develop and print film and also include a new roll of film, at the stated price, that price is based on his cost of the combination plus a profit markup.

QUESTION: I keep receiving calls from handicapped persons selling long-life light bulbs. Would I be contributing to a bonafide charity by buying from them?

ANSWER: The person calling may be handicapped but is one employed to make the calls for a profit business. The owner deliberately chooses these callers through classified advertising for handicapped persons. If you want the light bulbs buy them but don't buy on a sympathy basis only.

QUESTION: I keep reading about advertisements concerning $1 an acre Government land. I believe you wrote sometime ago concerning this land.

ANSWER: There is no free government land, nor does the government sell land for less than its fair market value. There is little chance of "homesteading" land, even in Alaska, the last frontier. Some advertisers, by using names similar to government agencies lead the reader into believing the advertising they read is placed by a government agency.

Letters to the Editor

Editor, The Post:

The advertisement in your Post with the caption "KEEP CONTINUED PROGRESS with LOW TAXES!" is questionable.

It stated: "In 1958, the tax rate for Daly City was 1.48 per assessed value, $100.

"Today, the tax rate is $1.31 per assessed $100 value."

We moved here to Westlake in 1953, our taxes were $225 per year.

In 1960, we purchased another home in Westlake and though the increased cost was a little less than 35 per cent, our taxes have increased over 300 per cent or $702.54, to be exact.

It does little good or give the taxpayer any satisfaction to hear of what this one or that one did for the taxpayer. The fact remains that we keep paying and paying and paying . . .

Serramonte Apartment Is Approved

The Daly City Planning Commission last week approved the tentative map for construction of 355 apartment units adjacent to the new Serramonte Shopping Center.

There were several stipulations attached to the approval, including assuranes from Developer E. V. Schulhauser that a medium strip would be installed on a section of Callan Boulevard if the need arose, due to traffic habits in the apartment-shopping center area.

A planning staff member had requested additional recreational faciilties and open space for the eight-acre apartment house complex, but Schulhauser threatened to "plant greenery on the slopes" if these demands continued.

Schulhauser said the density of the area was far below that authorized under current zoning ordinances and off-street parking for tenants was "more than ample."

Site of the new buildings is on a sloped tract off Callan Boulevard. A walk-in access between the apartments and shopping center will be provided, Schulhauser informed the commission.

The "cascade" style structures will provide a view for occupants, according to the developer's plans.

"We are trying our best to put this slope land to the very best use with something that will be a benefit to the city," Schulhauser said.

Commissioner Richard Dwyer was concerned over the breaking up of the large parcel into smaller lots on which one, two, or possibly, three apartment structures may be built.

"In time — perhaps in five years — a lot could end up with several owners," Dwyer said.

But Schulhauser argued that a written clause in ownership agreements would prevent this from ever happening.

(The city was pulled into a situation in recent years where a developer had divided lots in half and persons who bought the property found themselves with a deed for both parcels, instead of one, confusing ownership. Dwyer was concerned that this might happen again.)

A wait-and-see attitude was agreed upon rgarding the median strip down the middle of Callan Boulevard.

Schulhauser pointed out that no one could predict at the present time what amount of traffic would be diverted over the new Cabrillo Freeway when it opens.

He said the median strip was not planned for when the maps were first drawn up and feared the overall width of Callan Boulevard "may be inadequate" to provide this median strip.

In other action Wednesday, the Commission approved a use permit for a tow truck service filed by Fred M. Tautenhahn at 505 Skyline Drive.

Tabled a variance request filed by Robert J. J. Goodin and Gerald A. Goodin which would reduce the number of required off-street parking spaces at a development within the city (Hillcrest).

Granted a use permit to Sidney F. Paton and Lois Paton for an auto parts facility at the Westlake AutoTorium Store, 95 Southgate Avenue.

Name Change Approved For Subdivision

Pacifica councilmen Wednesday approved a request from the Westview Improvement Club for permission to change the name of the Westview Subdivision to "Pacific Highlands" as part of a project to upgrade the neighborhood's image.

Mrs. Maria Carter, chairman of the 450-member homeowner's group, said a recent poll of the membership indicates two-thirds of the residents favor the change because Pacific Highlands is more suited to the weather conditions and the Scottish street names in the area.

"Pacific Highlands is also the designation indicated on ofifcial city maps and on our property deeds," she said.

"We feel the poor image the neighborhood now has is not deserved, in light of recent improvements, and the name change will help to eradicate this," Mrs. Carter said.

City Manager C. W. Masonheimer said the city already has a directional sign labeled "Pacific Highlands," and it will be installed at Skyline Boulevard and Manor Drive.

"It will cost the city no more than $150 to install the new sign," the manager said.

Masonheimer noted the area in question was apparently intended to be called Pacific Highlands originally, and the Westview name probably grew out of the subdivision developers' sales promotions.

Though the name change is not expected to have any immediate effect, it will give us a fresh start," Mrs. Carter said.

CSM Plans To Use Tax Funds To Finish Work On New Campuses

San Mateo Junior College District trustees are not going to allow last month's bond election defeat to cripple the two new district colleges now under construction.

Agreeing with Supt. Julio L. Bortolazzo that opening the new colleges — Canada in Redwood City and Skyline in San Bruno — must be given top priority, the district board last week quickly approved his recommendation that funds from the tax increase approved by the voters at the same time as they narrowly rejected the bonds be temporarily diverted to complete work on the two campuses.

They decided to earmark $335,000 for minimum facilities that would have been financed by the bonds at Canada College — entry roads, physical education fields and courts, erosion-control landscaping, parking, and site lighting — and another $293,000 for utilities at Skyline College.

In a companion action at their meeting at the district's present single operating campus, College of San Mateo, they voted to resubmit the $3.1 million bond proposal to the voters "as soon as practically possible."

That could be either at a special election in September or at the general election in November, said Dr. Bortolazzo. "Legal time considerations will prevent us from getting this matter on the June primary ballot," he explained.

Robert Harrison Jr., executive director of San Mateo County's leading "watchdog" agency, the Governmental Research Council, pledged that organization's support again in a repeat bond campaign.

GRC actively worked for passage of the bonds in March. "The reasons we supported you then are still there," said Harrison. "The need is still there. Let's get on with it."

1500 Scouts To Join In Camporee

One hundred fifteen Boy Scout troops from San Mateo County Scout Council have registered to participate in a council wide camporee activity at Foster City on May 3, 4, and 5, Arthur H. Bredenbeck of Brulingame, has advised.

The camping troops will be participating in a "Scouting in Action" Scout - O - Rama in a tent city surrounding Central Lake.

With over 3,000 Boy Scouts involved, James Caldwell camporee chairman, has stated, "patrol from each of the Scout troops will be competing for Class A, B, C and participating awards with a presidential award going to all Scout troops with 80 per cent of their registered membership participating."

Caldwell has advised that the competition events will include a hike in inspection, uniform inspection, camp inspection, and cooking. Activities on which Scouts will be rated include first aid, fire building, tripod erection, atomic pioneering, log lift, and flag pole raising.

Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers are currently selling Scout - O - Rama tickets to householders in San Mateo County. Part of the dollar fees is to defray Scout - O - Rama costs with the balance going to extend the camping and activity programs of the units of the Scout council.

No Clues In Death Of Woman

There were still no clues in the hit-and-run death of a 46-year old woman in Brisbane earlier this week.

Police Sgt. Bob Wilberg is still trying to p iece together the activities of Mrs. Thomas Williams, 3972 Twenty-sixth Street, San Francisco, after she left work at 5 p.m., Tuesday.

Mrs. Williams was a switchboard operator at a San Francisco brokerage firm.

Her battered body was recovered from the fast southbound lane of Old Bayshore Boulevard shortly after 10:20 p.m. Tuesday, by police after a passing motorist reported the body in the roadway.

The victim had been hit by three cars, including the hit-and-run driver, police said.

Pacifica's Fairmont Park Coming Before Greenbelt

Directors of the Fairmont Homeowners' Association in Pacifica have capitulated to the wishes of a majority of the association membership, and agreed to proceed with work on Fairmont Park before completing the Hickey Greenbelt Project.

Instructed by the council two weeks ago to resolve their "internal differences," the homeowners presented a unified front in favor of the park site development Wednesday night, and the greenbelt project was postponed.

Association directors had previously insisted that the city proceed with work on the Hickey Greenbelt, but a petition signed by 700 homeowners, over half the association's membership, urged the council last month to grant priority to the Fairmont One Park Site.

Though the association received funds for the park from the subdivision developers, Henry Doelger Builders, the land area is public property, and the city must also assume responsibility for maintenance.

The council approved the association's revised improvement schedule Wednesday, and authorized work on the park, "subject to recommendations from the Park, Beach and Recreation Commission and other city departments."

The park development work will be done, for the most part, by 150 volunteers from the association under direction of the city staff.

Grading operations were scheduled to begin today, according to association member James McDonald, a leader in the fight to gain priority for the park project.

McDonald said the park improvements will cost $10,000 in cash, and $8,000 to $10,000 in labor, most of which will be donated.

A Vallemar resident, Patrick Hagerty, objected to the council's action in authorizing work on the Fairmont project before undertaking improvements of the Calera Creek Park in his neighborhood.

"I am astonished to learn that the council has made commitments for improvements in Fairmont before any work is done in our park," he said.

"The Park, Beach and Recreation Commission agreed to trim the trees in this park eight years ago, and you still have not gotten around to doing the work," he said. "Instead, you are going to spend the money on a subdivision which was not even on the maps when we made our initial request."

Hagerty and other Vallemar residents told Mayor Grace McCarthy and councilmen that dead trees and limbs in the park are creating a hazard for children, and poison oak eradication and a clean-up project are also needed.

"Money for the Fairmont improvements was budgeted last year," Mrs. McCarthy said, "and it is simply being transferred from the greenbelt project to the park improvement."

Councilman Harland Minshew urged Hagerty and other city residents to attend budget study sessions this year "in order to give us direction in setting these priorities."

Richard Passafiume, an unsuccessful candidate in Tuesday's council election, volunteered to "trim Mr. Hagerty's trees," and the city agreed to provide the necessary tools.

Veteran Bruno Teacher Retires

Nobody wants Cletus S. Banwarth to resign from his teaching position at College of San Mateo except Cletus S. Banwarth.

And the veteran mathematics instructor, who first joined the CSM faculty in 1947, learned again last night that one against hundreds is pretty formidable odds.

Banwarth, a San Bruno resident who originally decided to leave his post last summer, and then was persuaded to change his mind, now wants to resign this June at the end of the current college year.

But the board of trustees, considering his written request "for appropriate action" at its regular meeting on the CSM campus, declined to render an immediate decision.

"This gentleman is a master teacher to say the least," said Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo, college president.

"His loss would be a real blow to all his students and faculty colleagues," added Trustee Robert A. Tarver.

"How old is he? Only 62? Why, he's just a boy. That's too young to retire," contributed Trustee U.S. Simonds Jr.

The other members of the board concurred in all those sentiments. They agreed that they will sit down with Banwarth in an executive session and try to get him to reconsider once more.

In other business on their agenda, the trustees:

1. Awarded to George W. Foulk, Redwood City general engineering contractor, the job of installing on-site utilities at new Canada College. His firm was low among six bidders, at a base figure of $79,400. Estimated cost of the work had been calculated at $84,000.

2. Awarded to the "lowest responsible bidders" as required by law, a $183,040 lease-purchase contract for supplying science laboratory equipment for Canada College. The job was let to Taylor Mfg. Co. of Texas, low among three bidders. Trustee U.S. Simonds Jr., who is employed as secretary-treasurer of the Building and Construction Trades Council of San Mateo County, cast the lone dissenting vote on the matter because, he said, he saw "a possibility of organizational trouble" among the unions he represents, since it is his understanding the Taylor firm is non-union.

3. Approved application for $52,009 in federal matching funds for various projects designed to strengthen instruction at CSM and Canada College.

4. Appointed to the Canada faculty for 1968-69 Lyman C. Ashley, in physical education; Richard C. Heidsiek, art; Arthur J. Katz, business subjects, and Carl V. Sitton, music; and to the College of San Mateo faculty Dr. Dorothy J. Crouch, bacteriology; Ardas Ozsogomonyan, chemistry, and Christie P. Zones, geology.

5. Approved the reassignment of two CSM teachers to Canada College: Lois S. Jacques, full-time in physical education, and Michael DeGregorio, part-time in chemistry.

6. Accepted teaching resignations from John C. Hancock, Robert C. Moore and Jeanne A. Nagel.

7. Scheduled their next regular meeting for 8:30 p.m. on April 24.

Pacifica Okehs Station Funding

A resolution appropriating funds for the purchase and renovation of Pacifica's new police station was adopted at Wednesday's council meeting.

The resolution authorizes transfer of $43,000 from the general fund to the capital improvement fund to cover initial cost of the long-awaited project.

Architects are in the process of completing plans for the new station, which will be located at the Laguna Salada School District vehicle maintenance site adjacent to the present city offices.

In other business Wednesday, the council:

Adopted a resolution requesting support of county legislative representatives for an assembly bill to exempt a recent social security increase from consideration as income compensation in setting state welfare payments;

Appointed a Vehicle Hearing Officer to hear cases arising from the city's new ordinance governing abandoned automobiles;

Introduced an ordinance regulating the production, processing the sale of milk and "other fluid dairy products" in the city, and proclaimed May "Senior Citizens Month," and next week "Bicycle Safety Week."

Thief Takes 8 Watches

Eight watches valued at about $400 were taken from the window of the Tick-Tock Jewelry store in San Bruno shortly after the store had closed and its personnel had left for the day.

San Bruno police Patrolman Frank Young said he was called by Byrl Atkins, just about 6 p.m., after the passing citizen had noted the store's front display window had been smashed.

The store at 532 San Mateo Avenue had closed just before 5:30 p.m.

Miracle Coating Eliminates House Painting

American United Chemical Company has developed a remarkable product for exterior walls that virtually eliminates outside painting for many years to come and is factory guaranteed for 15 years. This product called GUARD-COTE, combines the long-lasting properties of fiberglass, asbestos, mica and perlite to make a wall surface that resists all climate extremes.

Throughout the Country

School boards have found textured coatings so economical and lasting over the past several years that they are now specifying this type of material for school buildings.

Many thousands of textured coating applications have been made on homes, commercial and industrial buildings throughout the world, and these buildings have remained in perfect condition after more than 15 years exposure in all weather extremes.

The United States Government and large corporation, such as Shell Oil Company, Pacific Telephone Company, and American Telephone and Telegraph Company, are using textured coatings. This remarkable exterior surfacing provides waterproofing, insulation, and beauty, far outlasting any ordinary paint.

GUARD-COTE comes in 12 beautiful decorator colors—and does not change the structural lines of the building. Actually it adds beauty to any home or structure and increases its value.

Water-proofs, Insulates, Fire Retardent

GUARD-COTE has the additional advantages of waterproofing and through the use of Silicones, a modern day scientific advance, a water repellent "blanket" envelops the entire building so that no moisture can penetrate and damage the interior of the home. Through the use of fiberglass and perlite, highly efficient insulating material, the building becomes cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter.

Factory Guaranteed

Every GUARD-COTE job is registered and factory guaranteed for 15 full years material replacement against chipping, flaking or peeling. It fuses itself to the wall surface to a thickness 15 to 20 times that of normal paint.

No Obligation

Applications of GUARD-COTE are being made in this area by MORSE BROTHERS, exclusive applicators of this remarkable product for Northern California. Free information on how easily you may have GUARD-COTE applied at low bank terms with no down payment may be obtained by calling collect PLaza 6-1341 (24-hour service) or by mailing coupon below.

Spoon River Play Due At Westmoor Hi

Throughout the second weekend of May, the Westmoorites will be presenting "Spoon River Anthology," a story of a small town's dead delivering their own epitaphs, on the Westmoor High stage.

The play will be under the diection of Kenneth Brown with the assistance of Miss Francine Russo.

It features eight players, each acting out many roles, and two folk singers who accompany the play with song and guitar music.

The cast includes Ron Wells, sophomore; Keith Thomas, freshman; Kathy Garvin, junior; Marilee Jeppson, freshman; Yvonne Nienstadt, freshman, and Pat Donahue, junior. Elithea Whittaker, sophomore, and Bill Wilmes, senior, are the folk singers.

"Spoon River Anthology" was originally conceived by Edger Lee Masters as a series of poetic monologues. It was adapted for the stage by Charles Aidman, and was first presented at UCLA in 1952. It later became an off-Broadway production in New York.

Debaters In State Tourney

Westmoor debaters George Muller and Jeff Harris recently placed themselves among the top 40 debating teams in Califoria by becoming one of the six undefeated pairs at the Golden Gate Speech Association State Qualifying Debate Tournament. Luck deserted them in he semi-finals, however, and they were defeated.

The topic for the tournament was that Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation. In their affirmative speeches on the topic, Jeff and George stressed that crime has reached serious proportions, there is presently confusion and frustration amongst law enforcement officers and the only way to amend this situation is by adopting the resolution.

Jeff is a freshman at Westmoor and is active in Junior Statesmen and speech events.

George, a senior, is also active in Junior Statesmen and speech events. He recently captured third place in the State Semi-finals Boys' Impromptu division.

Mayor Proclaims Nat'l YWCA Week

Daly City mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett proclaimed the week of April 21-28 as National Y.W.C.A. Week and asked citizens to give special tribute to the world-wide organization "for its contribution to our community."

In his proclamation, the mayor said:

WHEREAS, in today's times with its accelerated technological and other scientific advances, one can be overwhelmed by the bigness apparent in all facets of life; and

WHEREAS, because of this many are apt to feel that individuals' identities, as well as efforts, do not count; and

WHEREAS, individuals today more than ever, need opportunities and channels by which in joining with others they can make contributions vital to our society' swell-being; and

WHEREAS, the Y.W.C.A., founded on the basic belief of the worth of the individual, has a successful record and superior qualifications for helping people develop their abilities for more effective living, through opportunities for personal growth and constructive activities;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Bernard J. Lycett, Mayor of the City of Daly City, do hereby proclaim NATIONAL Y.W.C.A. WEEK, April 21-28, 1968, as a week in which we give special tribute and support to this fine organization for its contribution to our community and to the well-being of all our citizens.

LE PACINI WRITES:

T.N. Performance of Team-Switcher Delbon

Lost in the hurley-burley of Super-Star Rick Barry's recent appearance in humble Pacifica at Terra Nova for the KYA Oneders, was the 57-point performance of Don Delbon for the losing Tiger Faculty.

Delbon, who usually plays for the Oneders, and works for Terra Nova, made his traditional annual switchover, and almost made Oneder founder, coach and chief fan (not to mention ace outside shooter) Johnny Holiday sorry that he had so cordially approved the treasonous act.

Delbon couldn't miss from anywhere that night, and had not Barry been lurking to put the game somewhat out of reach everytime the Old Tigers got uncomfortably close, the Oneders would have been beat by the Pacifica schoolteachers for the third straight year.

The Tiger Faculty meets another all-star group next Thursday night at Terra Nova when the 49er basketball team will be in town. We almost said will be in town "to do battle," but that might have been in poor taste, considering the recent incident concerning 49er Monty Stickles and the Jafferson faculty.

LOST IN THE FINISHING FLURRY of the NBA regular season and commencement of the play-offs, was the achievement of Wilt Chamberlain's greatest ambition — to lead the league in assists.

Running second in that department all season long to Lenny Wilkins, the world's all-time greatest scorer became the complete player with a burst of assists in the last few games to not only lead the league in assists (8.6) average but set an all-time NBA record in that category for pivot men.

Wilkins, incidentally, finished with an 8.3 average. Actually, Oscar Robertson, who played in only 65 games, finished with the best assist percentage at 9.7. The great Oscar also had the best average for points per game at 29.2, but didn't play enough to take the total point title away from Dave Bing.

Al Attles ranked seventh in assists (5.8) while playing in only 67 games, many of those at only partial efefctiveness and some in which he made hardly more than token appearances. Bill Russell was the only other pivot in the top 10 in assists, averaging 4.6 for tenth spot.

Final statistics also showed (what else is new?) what a great shooter the oft-injured Jerry West is. Jerry had the fourth best field goal shooting percentage behind Chamberlain, Walt Bellamy and Jerry Lucas, all big men potting mostly from inside. Jerry achieved that tremendous percentage on basically outside shooting.

One final set of pro basketball statistics which showed up interesting for the local people was rebounds. The Warriors had the fourth and fifth best rebounders in the league in Clyde Lee and Bob Thurmond, respectively, behind Chamberlain, Lucas, and Russell. Need we remind that Thurmond played in only 51 games, while Lee played a good majority of the season at forward, where rebound chances aren't quite as plentiful as at a center post, especially when the center is Nate Thurmond.

Thurmond had the second best average (22.0) behind Chamberlain (23.8), while Lee had the fifth best at 13.9.

WE SAVED SPACE HERE to write about the Giant opener with the Mets last week, but actually — aside from the fact that it was a good game with a thrilling ending — as openers go it was nothing special.

San Francisco Mayor Joe Alioto continued to spread his vitality image on both sides of the bread by throwing out the first ball from the mound rather than his box, and then watched most of the game without hat or sunglasses.

A friend of our's suggested that it might make a good story if a ball were hit into the special temporary boxes (built on the field for opening day VIP's) that could have ordinarily been caught in foul territory and which later cost the game, and if the Giants then lost the pennant by one game . . . but anyway, there wasn't a ball that came close to those boxes.

We made our usual brilliant remarks; like Juan Marichal always has trouble with the Mets (he's only lost about one game to them in something like five years), Jimmy Davenport has a great glove (a pitch later a ball was hit right through him), Nate Oliver is a weak hitter (on the next pitch he got a hit), and things like that. But we didn't feel too bad after Jesus Alou got that game-winning double, because just before he came to bat and while he was accumulating two strikes, two fans next to us had been discussing how Alou is a bad hitter and never hits in the clutch.

And of course there was the inevitable fan who claims that the Giants don't have enough pitching and that Marichal is a bum.

As we said, a typical opener, not unlike any other.

THE FUNNIEST SPRING training story we heard this year went like this: Minnesota pticher Dave Boswell was warming up one day and called to pitching coach Early Wynn, "Watch this pitch. It's the ninth inning of the seventh game of the World Series. The count is 3-and-2 and we're leading 2-1."

"How many on base?" ask Wynn.

"Bases loaded," said Boswell.

Wynn waved his arms and called time, waved to an imaginary bull pen, and shouted, "Perranoski!"

ONE OF THE MORE INTERESTING "off-season" quotes came from Pete Rozelle in discussing the general problem of distributing talent.

"Actually, though," Rozelle said in concluding his remarks, "we,re pleased with the structure of football and allocation of players. It's difficult to have a losing season. With intelligent management, you have a fair chance of building a winner in a couple of years."

Let's see, now. The 49ers started in, was it 1946?

LOCAL NOTES: Dennis Dickey, son of former Seal (baseball) Lloyd Dickey, is a chip off the old block. When Lloyd was with the Seals and later San Diego, he was one of the Pacific Coast League's real tough-luck pitchers. Last week Dennis, pitching for Crestmoor against Terra Nova, threw a two hitter . . . and lost.

Bob Rodrigo, San Francisco State's three-time Little All-American fullback of the '50's who later became an assistant football coach and head baseball coach at his alma mater, will be leaving S.F. State for an assistant coaching position with the Cal State at Hayward football team.

Host Tigers Win Coastal Tourney

By GARY WHITE
Post Sports Writer

Desire, a little six-letter word that can outweigh talent, spelled the difference in the second annual Terra Nova High School baseball tournament.

Host Terra Nova, currently the doormat of the North Peninsula League, stunned Lincoln, the pride of San Francisco's AAA League, with a shocking 3-2 triumph in the championship game Thursday.

In the battle for third, Serra upset Novato of Marin County, 5-4, while Crestmoor stopped Oceana, 4-1, to gain fifth spot.

Hillsdale whipped Capuchino, 2-0, to place seventh.

Steady pitching and good defense kept the Tiger-Lincoln game scoreless for four innings. Then Greg Lynch, the Tigers' right fielder, blasted a home run. Three singles produced another run.

The hard-hitting Mustangs scored a run on three consecutive singles in the bottom of the fifth—but Bob Turner, who went the distance for Terra Nova, retired the side without futher incident. Turner was rewarded in the sixth when catcher Mike Rawlings unloaded a homer which proved to be the winning tally.

Lincoln threatened again, scoring in the sixth.

Serra rallied from a 4-2 deficit in the bottom of the sixth with three runs on two singles and two costly Novato errors. Hurler Steve Gannon then set the Marin nine down in order for the remainder of the game.

Crestmoor, led all the way in the fifth-place show down, with the decisive frame being the fifth when the Falcons scored three runs on four singles. Glenn Grossman went the distance for Crestmoor the second day in a row to pick up the win on a four hitter.

Hillsdale's shutout was its second in a week over the Cappers.

Rob Taylor was the hero for the Knights, setting the Mustangs down on two hits, while striking out seven. He also accounted for both runs, blasting a double in the fifth inning which scored two runs.

St. Ignatius Wins S.S.F. Tournament

St. Ignatius High School, performing in a flawless manner, is the 1968 South San Francisco Easter Invitational Baseball tournament champion.

And it took a little-used third baseman, who came off his spot on the bench for the first time, to lift the Wildcats of the West Catholic Athletic League into the championship throne.

Jerry Pariani, who played only one inning out of the four previous games SI played, rapped out a two-run double with two out and the bases loaded in the last of the eighth inning to spirit SI to a 5-4 victory over Vallejo for the title before an overflow crowd at Orange Park Saturday.

In the other game South San Francisco rallied for a run in the bottom of the ninth inning to edge El Camino, 3-2, for third-place honors.

In the title game, Vallejo had taken a one-run lead, 4-3, in the top of the eighth when Ron Clarke doubled and Mike Golovich singled to drive him home.

The scene was set for Pariani's dramatic hit in the bottom of the eighth when Jim Raggio, Phil Kelber and Jack Bonnicci all walked to load the bases for the Wildcats. Then, with two out, Pariani lined a hit to right center for the winning blow.

St. Ignatius, which now has won the South SF title three times in the 15 years it has been run, completed its four-game schedule without committing a single error.

"It was the greatest tournament in the 15-year history of the event," Brian commented. "The weather was the best we have ever had and the attendance was by far the greatest ever," he added.

Trojans Still Unbeaten, Win Seventh in a Row

The Trojans picked up their seventh win in a row in the Daly City Recreation Department's Hoopburners Division Adult Three Man Hunch Basketball League last week, as they walloped the Misfits No. 1 crew 40-23.

Willie Brown lead the winners' scoring attack as he pumped in 21 points, while Hoppe Thompson gave a strong assist for the winners as he scored 15 points.

OLPH 2 took a thriller from OLPH 1, 47-42, as Harvey "Cuddles" Cross scored 22 points to spearhead the winners' attack. Ray Chelone, Joe Arnold and Paul Martin all hit double figures for the losers.

The Misfits 2 cinched a playoff position as they trimmed the sandbaggers 40-35. Leading scorers for the winners included Don Kelley and Ed Wld with 11 point apiece.

Darrel Williams again sparked the Sandbaggers' efforts as he hit the hoop for 16 points.

The Warriors, Burners and Chargers all proved victorious last week in the semi final playoffs of Open Division Adult Three Man Hunch Basketball League.

The Warriors were lead by the 22 point scoring of John Vandehey and the 20 point contribution of Dennis Flannery as they defeated the Chargers, 44-39.

Norm Angell was high point man for the Chargers with 25 points.

The Burners used a balanced attack to defeat the Nauscators 41-31. Outstanding performances for the Burners were turned in by Johnny Butler, Elmore Youngblood and Doug Canyon.

In the final encounter of the evening the Chargers bounced back from their earlier loss to take a nip and tuck 41-33 win from the Nauscators. Norm Angell once again proved too good for the opposition as he tallied 21 points while Vic Kulik and Cliff Johnson sparked the losers' attack, scoring 15 and 14 points respectively.

P.E. Program in S.S.F. Works

The El Camino High School students taking physical education three days a week do nearly 100 per cent better in physical fitness tests than the youngsters taking P.E. five days a week.

"It must be because they spend 40 per cent less time in the locker room, dressing and showering," said Principal Robert C. Keropian in South San Francisco.

The three-day-a-week kids get their exercise in two 100-minute classes and one 50-minute period. The five-day classes run 50 minutes each.

Keropian said the five-day P.E. students spend 14 weeks of the 36-week school year in the locker room.

With special authorization from the State Department of Education, El Camino High School started research studies on flexible scheduling for physical education when the school opened in 1960.

It took special authorization because present state law decrees that all junior and senior high school students must attend a P.E. class every school day, the only subject so ordered.

The effectiveness of flexible scheduling Keropian said, has been demonstrated clearly in science labs, homemaking, auto shop, and other vocational courses.

"They all involve a lot of preparation and cleanup time, as P.E. does," he said. In a 50-minute period you can just about get set up to work a lathe or bake a cake, and then the cleanup bell rings."

The El Camino P.E. research study looked for a direct answer to the questions: Is limited daily exercise essential for physical fitness? Can longer P. lls
E. classes scheduled over three days achieve better physical fitness?

The El Camino studies were supervised by San Francisco State College and the State Department of Education's bureau of health, physical education, and recreation.

In every year of the study, Keropian declared, the three days a week students outscored the five days a week kids in the statewide test for physical fitness.

In 1966-67 the three-day classes scored nearly 100 per cent better than the five-day classes, he said.

The scoring was based on pre-testing all boys and girls in grades 9, 10, and 11 in the standing broad jump, push-ups, 50-yard run, distance soft ball throw, and the 660-yard run walk.

Boys and girls like the three-day program better, and so do their teachers, Keropian said.

An effort to repeal the law reuiring daily P.E. classes failed in the legislature last year.

Sen. George Miller, D-Martinez, is sponsoring a new measure, SB1, in the current session.

Assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, Assemby Education Committee chairman, has scheduled a public hearing for April 18.

300 Applaud Gym Team

An appreciative crowd of over 300 parents and students applauded the efforts of the Capuchino Girls Gymnastic Team at their first annual show in the boys gym.

Students originated their own routines which delighted and thrilled the audience. Particularly fascinating was a "Neon Hoops" number performed by Chris Nielsen, Lynn Achman and Chris Egeberg and the mood moments called "Elastic" and executed to oriental music by Greta Johansen, Cherri Seim and Gail Benedict. Other routines included tumbling, uneven bars, balance beam, vaulting, free exercises and rhythmic balls. Outstanding single performers were Donna Leblanc, Gail Benedict, Greta Johansen and Cherri Seim.

Judging by the successful attendance and the rapt attention and enthusiastic responce of observers this show will become a Capuchino classic.

Roller Runs Over Worker

A San Mateo man's legs and feet were crushed Thursday when he was run over by a dirt roller at a construction site in San Bruno.

Highway Patrolman L. R. Torres said the victim, Coy Lee Truluck, 50, of 1409 East Third Avenue, was working in the center divider strip of Bayshore Freeway when he got off of the machine and walked around in front of it. He had put it in neutral gear and left the engine running.

Truluck, an employe of the Fisk, Firenze, and McLean Company of San Carlos, was watching another piece of equipment at work when his dirt roller started forward. He was knocked down and the roller passed over his legs, then continued on and crashed into a guard railing. Truluck was reported in fair condition at Peninsula Hospital today.

Knowledge Bowl Scores

College Bowl features sharp college kids, but Daly City's version of the TV program, the Knowledge Bowl, will feature sharp local school talent. Knowledge Bowl will be presented live April 24, at 7:30 p.m. at Crocker Lodge, 17 Hillcrest Drive, Daly City.

The Knowledge Bowl, sponsored by the Crocker Lodge, is to be held in conjunction with Public Schools Week, April 22-26.

Returning for a repeat performance as moderator is Leonard Martin, who teaches business education at Westmoor. Again the participants will come from Jobs' Daughters, DeMolay, and Rainbow.

The Knowledge Bowl is not the only contribution made to Public Schools' Week by Crocker Lodge. As they have done for the past ten years, the lodge will again print about 15,000 Public Schools' Week Open House brochures for distribution to parents of the students enrolled in the Daly City Public Schools.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extraction for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Mary's Help Gets Federal Money

Mary's Help Hospital has been awarded $251,890 in federal funds for expansion of services.

Sister Louise, administrator, stated that the funds allocated on Wednesday by the State Advisory Hospital Council under the Hill-Harris Construction Program would cover one-third of the cost of providing 30 beds for extended care and 40 beds for long term nursing care. These new facilities will be provided on two of the unfinised floors of the existing hospital.

The plans for expansion of services were approved by the Community Advisory Board of Mary's Help Hospital under the presidency of Roy A. Bronson and by the Medical-Dental Staff under the chairmanship of Dr. George L. Torassa, Jr.

The new services were endorsed by Dr. Harold Chope, San Mateo Director of Public Health and Welfare; Bernard Lycett, Mayor of the City of Daly City; the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce; the San Mateo County Development Association and Stanford University School of Medicine. Construction will commence in approximately nine months.

Japanese Mandarin Orange 'Fridge' Cake's Real Cool

There are a million delicious things homemakers like to do when the weaather turns balmy — but slaving over a hot stove isn't one of them! That's why many women do a figurative "spring cleaning" of their recipe files and discard the hot and heavy dishes while they gather together the tried and true, easy-does-it, rapid-fix-it meal suggestions that are easy on the cook.

One of the most delicious desserts to tempt your family is Japanese Mandarin Orange Cake. This recipe is a double-barrel treat: not only does it look colorful and springy and taste marvelous; but it's so delightfully easy to prepare. You mix up the ingredients in a few minutes, and the refrigerator does the rest of the work.

What makes this cake so wonderfully tasty are the succulent little Japanese Mandarin Oranges that are both in and on the dessert. These tender little segments (sometimes erroneously confused with tangerine sections) contribute to truly unique flavor unlike any other citrus fruit.

Next time you want to have a cake for dessert, don't bake it, make it! Japanese Mandarin Refrigerator Cake is a real "cool" treat for the one smart enough to prepare it and those lucky enough to eat it!

Japanese Mandarin Orange Refrigerator Cake

2 11-ounce cans Japanese Mandarin oranges
1 6-ounce package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
18 to 20 lady fingers, split
2 cups heavy cream, whipped

Drain juice from Mandarin oranges; if necessary, add enough water to make 2 cups, and bring to boil. Dissolve gelatin in hot liquid; add cold water, and cool until mixture is syrupy. Line bottom and sides of 9-in. spring form pan with lady fingers. Fold syrupy mixture into whipped cream with Mandarin oranges, reserving a sufficient quantity of the segments for garnishing. Pour into lined cake pan, and chill for several hours, or overnight. Makes 10 servings.

Meat Demand On Increase

How much meat does the average American eat? If he's an average-sized man, he eats his weight in meats during the year. The estimated per capita consumption for 1967 is 176.6 pounds. That's a gain of four per cent over 1966.

Most of the meat is beef: 105.6 pounds per person. Next in order is pork: 63.3 pounds. Veal per capita consumption runs 3.9 pounds while lamb and mutton run to 3.8 pounds per person.

In 1925, the per capita consumption ran to 140.1 pounds per person. By 1960, the consumption per person had edged to 160.8 pounds per capita.

Only one other group of foods exceeds that figure: milk and cream at 287 pounds per person. The first food that comes closest in poundage to meat consumption is one it's often teamed with: potatoes at 117.4 pounds per person.

Vitamin D Effect Told

Dr. William J. Darby, chairman of the Council of Food and Nutrition of the American Medical Association, points out that Rickets, the classical disease problem that causes pigeon chests, bowed legs and other bone malformations in children because of weak bone structure, has been almost totally eliminated by the addition of Vitamin D to milk. He calls attention to the fact that Vitamin D is necessary to help the body absorb calcium and that milk is a major source of calcium in today's diets.

Salads and Casseroles to Brighten Changeable Days

Salads and casseroles offer a delightful way to vary and brighten menus during these changeable-weather days when it's so important that the family take both a hearty interest and a pleasure in food.

Fortunately, apples, one of the most versatile of the available fruits, are plentiful and at the peak of their eating goodness right now.

Besides good taste, the bright red apple color adds appetite-perking eye appeal to any meal and the crisp white meat of this fruit contributes a wealth of health-building vitamins.

Perfect salad apples are the Red or Golden Delicious from Washington State's renowned apple-growing country. They're so wonderfully juicy and firm-textured you'll want to put in a good supply to use in salads and for eating out-of-hand.

It's a good idea always to ask for Red Delicious by variety name to be sure you get the best quality apples and the most beautiful fruit to adorn your apple bowl or table centerpiece.

For cooking choose the Washington Winesaps, which are now appearing in our markets. This late-harvested variety is of tart, pungent flavor which it retains throughout cooking.

Here are two recipes for tempting menu addition salads that use the bright color and crisp, tangy flavor of Washington apples to full advantage. The Apple Supper features the tangy, all-purpose Washington Winesap in combination with macaroni and tuna fish.

Baked in an easily made sauce of canned cream soups and milk, this "meal-in-one" dish is topped with buttered bread crumbs. The Apple-Salmon Salad combines shredded cabbage, unpeeled diced apples and salmon, all sparked with the addition of green onions, green olives, capers and lemon juice. This is an unusually tasty fish-apple combination.

APPLE SUPPER

2 cups cooked shell macaroni
2-7-ounce cans tuna, chunk-style
2 apples, diced
2 tbsp. chopped onion
1-3 cup stuffed green olives, sliced
1 can (10½ ounces) each cream-of-mushroom and cream celery soup
1 cup milk
2-3 cup buttered bread crumbs, sour cream or cream sauce

Mix together in a casserole the macaroni, tuna, apples, onion and olives. Combine soups, stir in milk, mixing thoroughly and pour over apple mixture. Mix lightly, top with buttered crumbs. Bake at 325 degrees F. for 15-20 minutes. Serve with sour cream or cream sauce. Makes 6 servings.

APPLE-SALMON SALAD

1 lb. canned salmon
2 apples, unpeeled and diced
3 cups white cabbage, shredded
2 tbsp. chopped green onion
1 tsp. oregano
Mayonnaise
Lemon juice
1 tsp. capers
Lettuce
Stuffed green olives (optional)

Break salmon into pieces, removing skin and bones. Combine with apples, cabbage, onion and oregano. Thin mayonnaise with lemon juice, add capers, and carefully fold into salad. Arrange lettuce on individual sald plates and fill with Apple-salmon mixture. Garnish with stuffed olives. Makes 6 servings.

100 Parts To the Milk

Milk researchers have succeeded in identifying some 100 chemical components which make up the 13 per cent solids by weight in a quart of whole milk. It comes as a surprise to many that milk contains more solids than onions, carrots, oysters, spinach, tomatoes, lettuce and many other fruits and vegetables. NOTE: Weight and calories are not synonomous. For example vitamins and minerals have weight but not calroies; while fat is relatively light and yet is high in calories.

Prizewinning Recipes From This Year's Bake-off for Peninsula Cooks

What goes into a $25,000 cake? When the winner of Pillsbury's 19th Bake-Off was announced, the secret ingredient was poppy seed and lemon buttercream frosting mix. Mrs. Albert Lidert of Oak Lawn, Ill., loves to cook; her husband loves "anything made with poppy seed." The result? Buttercream Pound Cake, a rich cake with a light lemon flavor and poppy seed filling swirled through it.

Continental flavor in an easy dough wrapper earned $5,000 for Mrs. J. David Taylor, Dallas, Texas. Mrs. Taylor wrapped classic lasagne ingredients of ground beef, tomato and spices in refrigerated crescent dinner rolls to substitute for noodles. Crafty Crescent Lasagne won first prize in the refrigerated fresh dough category.

English buttercream frosting mix flavored an oatmeal cookie which won Mrs. Lee Holcomb, Farmington, New Mexico, $5,000. Toffee Breaks, first prize recipe in the flour category, are easily made with instant oatmeal, then glazed with more candy and broken into pieces like peanut brittle.

Bacon bits in a bread made with cream cheese and hot roll mix meant a $5,000 first prize in the convenience mix category for Mrs. Edward Schumann of Oshkosh, Wisconsin. Bacon Braid takes on a rich goldtn brown color as it bakes.

Tiny cups of biscuit dough filled with a spicy barbecue mixture took first place in the Junior Division. Peter Russell, 12, earned $2,000 when he prepared Poppin' Fresh Barbecups.

More Americans Than Ever Are Eating Turkeys

Last year the average American ate 8.8 pounds of turkey, an all-time high in consumption. That's about half a turkey per person — more than anyone could eat just on Thanksgiving.

Although Americans are demonstrating an ever-increasing appetite for turkey, the Poultry and Egg National Board promises that the 1968t urkey crop will be adequate to meet the demand.

The over 18-pound tom turkey is still the best bargain. He provides more meat at a lower cost per serving. A larger turkey, regardless of sex, is always a better buy than a smaller turkey.

For example, an 8-pound turkey selling at about 45 cents a pound will yield approximately 10 servings. Cost per serving is 36 cents. A 20-pound turkey selling at 29 cents a pound will yield approximately 40 servings. Cost per serving is about 15 cents.

A small family will have no difficulty making good use of a large turkey — especially if a home freezer is available.

The bird can easily be cut in half at the supermarket. Half can be eaten for Sunday and half can be kept in the freezer for a later meal. The homemaker who likes the appearance of a whole bird can remove the drumsticks, thighs and wings from the uncooked bird and keep them in the freezer for later use. The turkey, without the parts can then be roasted like a whole bird.

If there should still be leftovers after dinner, the cooked turkey can be used in many ways — in appetizers, soups, sandwiches and various kinds of mixed dishes.

Turkey has always been a very economical protein food, but is an even more thrifty buy this year. This is because turkey is plentiful and improved.

The past few years have brought dramatic changes in the turkeys that are on the market. Today's turkeys have almost 50 per cent more finished meat than the turkeys of several years ago. This means there is more meat and less bone per pound purchased.

Turkeys have also been bred to have broader, heavier breasts which has resulted in a much greater ratio of white to dark meat. Today's turkeys have about two-thirds white meat and one-third dark meat.

Because of improved refrigeration and distribution facilities, turkey has fast become a year-round food, whether it is purchased whole, cut-up or as one of many further processed items. This has made turkey convenient to prepare for any size famliy or group at any time of the year.

Patterns For A Breakfast

If teen-agers feel like turning up their noses and skipping the regular breakfast patterns in you home like bacon and eggs ' ' cereal and panfried ham, do a quick change and offer them a breakfast steak in a bun or even a ground beef patty or a hot dog.

They'll eat protein for breakfast, that way! They won't have a mid-morning lag or be tempted with sweets and starches.

Doctor in The Kitchen

by W. W. Bauer, M.D.
Consultant
National Dairy Council

In the early years of this century, scientists knew that our food contained proteins, fats, carbohydrates, mineral elements, and water. It was not difficult to separate these substances into relatively pure form from basic foods such as milk, meat, and cereal grains.

But when mixtures of such material were fed to experimental animals, the animals would become sick and die. From this, scientists concluded that there must be unidentified factors in food that are essential to health. Animals did well on the experimental diets if butterfat and water soluble material from yeast were added.

From such scientific investigation the discovery of vitamins evolved. The first to be discovered was vitamin A. This work was performed by scientists Elmer V. McCollum and Marguerite Davis at the University of Wisconsin in 1912. They found that something in butterfat or egg yolk fat could insure nutritional success with animals. Corroboration of this discovery of vitamin A came some months later from the Yale University laboratories of Thomas Burr Osborne and L. B. Mendel.

Now vitamins are known and classified according to their solubility. Those that are water soluble are vitamin C and the B vitamins. The vitamins that are fat soluble in their natural form are A, D, E, and K. All of these have been discovered and identified since Dr. McCollum's first vitamin was announced.

Nowadays, everyone knows that there are such things as vitamins. And many people thoroughly understand their function. Professional and public appreciation for the role of vitamins has been brought about by research and education.

Many persons and agencies have shared in this work. In this column, however, it is a pleasure to remind readers that Dr. McCollum himself played a major role in convincing the dairy industry it should set up an ethical nutrition research and educational agency, the National Dairy Council, in 1915, to help educate the public to its need for good nutrition, including knowledge of the new "vitamines." The Dairy Council continues to operate in the public interest by urging sound total nutrition and improved eating habits.

Vitamins are nutrients without calrories. They furnish no energy, but the body must have them because they are regulators of body processes. Your best source of the vitamins you need is the four food groups — the milk group, meats, vegetables and fruits, breads and cereals.

By eating a wide variety of foods from these groups you will also make sure you are getting food factors that have not yet been identified. To avoid overdoses or waste of money, don't rely on pills for good nutrition. Your doctor will prescribe them if there's a reason. We'll talk more about vitamins in food in a future column.

Try These Tasty Tarts

HEART OF MY HEART TARTS

No pastry problems with these tarts! They're a mixture of egg whites, chopped almonds and crushed unsalted Crackers.

20 Crackers (unsalted tops), finely rolled (about ¾ cup crumbs)
¾ cu chopped blanched almonds
3 egg whites, at room temperature
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
1 cup granulated sugar
1 pound frozen whole strawberries in syrup
Water
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 pint vanilla ice cream

Combine first two ingredients. Set aside. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until soft peaks form. Beat in sugar a tablespoon at a time, beating until stiff and glossy. Fold in crumb mixture. On a very well-greased cookie sheet, shape meringues into 6 heart shaped tarts pulling the sides up with the back of a spoon. Bake in a preheated slow oven (325 de. F.) 25 to 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Immediately remove with care from cookie sheet and place on wire rack to cool. To make sauce, drain strawberries, reserving syrup. add enough water to make 1¼ cups; heat to bubbling. Stir cornstarch into lemon juice. Blend into hot syrup. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Cool, add strawberries. Using a melon ball scoop, make ice cream balls and place 5 on each coiled meringue heart. Pour sauce over ice cream. Makes 6 tarts.

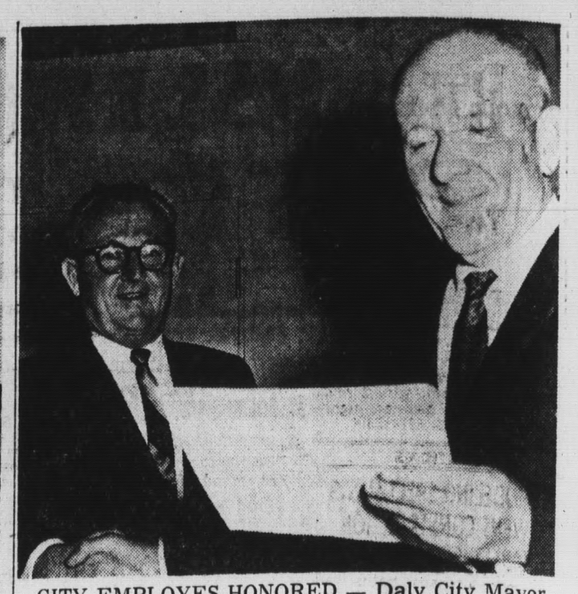
Horse-shoe shaped inclined "walkaround" overpass is under construction, rear, and is expected to be completed in June. Several fatalities in area brought strong citizen pressure for overpass. Six hundred feet of chainlink fence will discourage children from trying to cross highway at this point. ( )



CITY EMPLOYES HONORED — Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett presented long-time city employes with certificates and congratulations during a city-sponsored awards night dinner at the War Memorial Building in that city. One employe receiving a 25-year pin and certificate was City Gardener Amedeo F. Gonella. Some 34 other employes were honored for their service to the city during the dinner.

Teenager Is Killed In Crash

A high-speed chase through busy city streets ended with one teen-ager dead and another seriously injured when their car smashed into a concrete retainer wall in front of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in Daly City Sunday morning.

Killed instantly in the grinding 100 mph crash was Edward Cadiz Bariuan, 16, of 290 Wheeler Street, San Francisco, a passenger in the car driven by George Moguel, 17, of 1346 Utah Street, San Francisco.

Moguel was listed in satisfactory condition at Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco where he was taken following emergency treatment at Mary's Help Hospital.

According to San Francisco police officers Robert Olsen and Gene Revels, the two youths were first spotted speeding south along busy Mission Street in San Francisco shortly after midnight.

Instead of stopping when police began pursuing him, Moguel allegedly speeded up and tried to outrun them.

As the speeding car approached the Hillside-Brunswick intersection, directly in front of the church, the driver apparently lost control and the car skidded into the concrete wall.

Coast Man Shot Down By Thieves

A young Pacifica man was shot down in front of his home early Sunday morning when he interrupted two men attempting to steal his automobile.

Richard J. Wieder, 19, of 61 Clarendon Road, was shot twice with a heavy-caliber pistol when he surprised the pair in his car about 3:30 a.m.

He is listed in satisfactory condition at Mary's Help Hospital, where he is undergoing treatment for bullet wounds in the hip and arm.

Police said Wieder awakened and heard someone tampering with the car, which was parked on the street in front of his home.

He went out to investigate, carrying a large knife, and spotted the two men sitting inside the automobile.

As Wieder approached, one of the men stepped from the car and fired twice, officers said.

The suspects, described as "Oriental types," then fled in a green sedan which had been parked nearby.

Wieder's mother and a neighbor heard the shots, and telephoned police, officers said.

He was taken to the hospital by Bay Area Ambulance.

San Bruno Girl's Summer Dreams will Come True

The dream of a summer abroad is coming true in June for Maxine Papadakis, Americans Abroad exchange student from Capuchino High School.

Miss Papadakis, a sparkling 17-year-old, received confirmation from the New York American Field Service offices of her selection as an exchange finalist with destination particulars to arrive momentarily. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Papadakis of 1148 Crystal Springs, San Bruno.

The pretty Capuchino junior whirls through her busy days finding time to acquire her passport, suffer the necesary inoculations, selecting brand new luggage and clothing suitable for anywhere in the world

American Field Services places many students in homes here and abroad. The nonprofit organization works to broaden international understanding through student exchange.

San Bruno could not have a better young American as its representative in a foreign land. True to her name, this vivacious young lady has taught Greek folk dancing and is active in the Greek Orthodox church. She traveled to Greece on two occasions with her family.

Maxine hopes to have the opportunity to live with a family in the Middle or Far East, but will happily accept the AFS choice of home. Some of her enthusiasm for the Far East has developed from hearing the fantastic experiences of AFSer Jamie Horsely who went from Capuchino to Calcutta, India, last summer.

Adaptability, educational excellence and participation determined the choice of Maxine by a community-school representative selection committee and final selection by New York.

She is ever active in her school, community, church, and home. Besides being a member of the Academically Talented group at Cap, she is historian of the Foreign and Cultural Exchange and Travel Club, Capuchino Girls' Association, a banner girl with Cap Band, and a Candy Striper.

Maxine is a member of the California Scholarship Federation, has held many class and student body positions, worked as a recreation leader at Allen School last summer and recently was a camp counselor for San Bruno Elementary Schools at La Honda.

Current interests of Miss Papadakis include chairman in charge of features at the Battle of the Bands slated May 18 to raise funds for FACET's American Field Service work; practicing for the Contemporary Dance Festival May 24; rehearsing her roles in "Tom Jones," next school production on May 31-June 1.

Recently, Maxine was instrumentai in arranging, with other banner girls and majorettes, a lasagne lunch which raised funds to purchase two new uniforms for the Capuchino Band. She is ever energetic and giving of herself in every undertaking.

It is no surprise to acquaintances of Maxine, or affectionately "Max," that she has been chosen for the AFS honor. Everyone is waiting to share her experiences when she returns next fall.

The Americans Abroad area of AFS is a community-sponsored project. Funds are needed to keep this project alive. All contributions may be mailed to finance chairman, Bill Hagen, 548 San Mateo Avenue, San Bruno.

1st 'Charlie' Car Wash Set for S.S.F.

The country's first Follow Charlie Car Wash, a new fully automatic franchised drive-through system, will open at Hillside Boulevard and Linden Avenue in South San Francisco early in May, according to William F. Bell of San Bruno, the franchisee.

Follow Charlie is a unique coin-operated car wash system developed by Malsbary Manufacturing Co. of Oakland.

Bell said tentative opening date of his installation is the first Saturday in May. The unit and its parking and access areas will occupy a lot of approximately 14,000 square feet in the Siri Shopping Center.

The public is invited to attend the third annual "Parade of Bands" featuring the students of Alta Loma, Parkway and Southwood junior high schools. The program will be presented Sunday April 21, at 1:30 p.m. at the South San Francisco High School auditorium. Admission is free.

Each school will present a 30-minute concert and then move off to allow another band on. The program is designed to give all band members an opportunity to hear the other junior high school bands in the So. San Francisco Unified School District. Involved in the presentation will be 175 youngsters.

Bands, conductors and selections in the order of their appearance: Alta Loma — Conductor John Hersch; "Original Compositions" by Bill Aron, 9th grade music student at the school, "Variation Overture," by Clifton Williams; Parkway — Robert Endersby, "Thundercrest," E. Osterling, "Water Music," G. F. Handel; Southwood — Howard Dudune, "Bandology," E. Osterling, "Prelude and Fugue in F Minor," J. S. Bach.

Mary's Help Wins Top Approval

Mary's Help Hospital recently received accreditation approval by the Joint Commission and Accreditation of Hospitals for a three-year period.

Sister Louise, administrator, stated that the commisson, composed of representatves of the American Medical Association, the American Hospital Association, the American College of Surgeons, and the American College of Physicians, had commended the hospital for its "constant effort to improve the quality of patient care."

Shot Fired As Market Robbed

A pair of teen-agers held up the Mayfair Market in Daly City Sunday morning and escaped with an estimated $175 after knocking the clerk to the floor and firing a shot at him.

The bullet did not hit the clerk and he was only slightly injured in the incident, police said.

The two youths walked into the Geneva Avenue store supermarket about 2:45 a.m., and pretended to shop. As they approached the checkout stand they asked clerk George Steele for a package of cigarettes. When he rached for them one of the robbers struck him on the side of the face.

Steele was knocked to the floor and dazed momentarily. When he regained his feet, Steele saw the pair running out the door and started to chase them. One of the youths wheeled around and fired a shot directly at the clerk.

Police were unable to find the slug and suspect the guman might have been using blanks rather than live ammunition.

The pair were described as Negro males, 15-16 years old. One of the robbers wore a light-blue felt hat and was medium build. His companion was described at 5-10, 140 pounds.

Woman Injured In Cliff Topple

A Daly City woman was in serious condition at Mary's Help Hospital Monday with injuries suffered in a 300-foot fall down a Pedro Point cliff Sunday afternoon.

A hospital spokesman said the condition of Barbara Harris, 29, is only "fair" after treatment for a broken arm, severe lacerations, nose fracture and other injuries.

She fell from the top of a cliff overlooking the sea from Pedro Point about 5 p.m. while walking with another woman, Paula Padakan.

Pacifica firemen said both the women lost their footing in loose shale, but Miss Padekan fell only a few feet, sustaining minor lacerations.

She made her way back to the top of the cliff, and led the fire department rescue team back to the scene to assist her companion.

Miss Harris was found clinging to a small shrub 300 feet down the sloping face of the cliff, about 400 feet above the beach.

DC Moratorium On Book Fines

"Be All You Can Be—Read! With this slogan the City of Daly City joins in the observance of National Library Week—April 21-27.

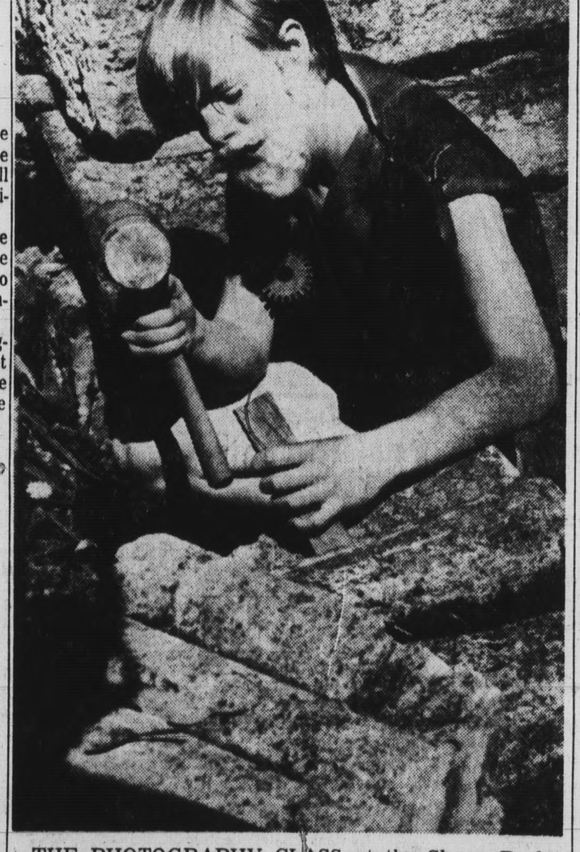
"There will be a moratorium in the collection of fines at all three branches of the Daly City Public Library," City Librarian Samuel Chandler announced.

patrons may be certain that they can return all overdue material. No questions will be asked, and no actions will be initiated.

The Friends of the Daly City Public Library will serve as the sponsors of the Book Review. Through their president, Mrs. F. Lincoln Walter, they extend an invitation to all people.

In each branch of the Library there will be displays showing the services offered by the Daly City Public Library. Among the displays will be posters and mobiles that have been created for the occasion.

National Library Week will be noted in leading newspapers, in periodicals, in radio broadcasts and in T.V. shows.



THE PHOTOGRAPHY CLASS at the Sharp Park Elementary School in Pacifica is currently engaged in producing a motion picture based on the ancient legend of Icarus. Six members of the seventh and eighth grades — plus additional recruits for actors — provide cameramen, prop boys, costume designers, and stunt men. All scenes are being shot on location in the vicinity. The film, being shot in color, will be entered in a state-wide student film festival. Students involved include Peter Murray, above, Mike Oakley, Barry Notmeyer, Rick Tellez, Wayne Morris, Riki Gay, David Bier, and David Boshoff.

CSM Is Leader To Negro

A young "black militant" said last week that College of San Mateo is doing more on less money to help Negro students than any other higher education institution in America.

Douglas Barker, recently returned from a federally sponsored Conference on Higher Education for Disadvantaged Youth in Washington, D.C., told the local junior college's board of trustees that the special CSM "readiness program" for students who come to the campus ill-prepared for college-level instruction "is being looked to for leadership by schools all across the country."

Two hundred colleges and universities operating programs with the same goal as CSM's were represented at the conference, Barker said.

"I told them what we were doing here (Barker himself is a CSM student as well as supervisor of tutors involved in the 'readiness' setup), and they all were amazed that we could be so effective on such a tight budget when they've got all the money in the world.

"It was obvious that even with the least funding, we've got the best program in the nation."

But CSM President Julio L. Bortolazzo cautined that what has been accomplished at the college so far "is just a bare start."

"And the chips are down for America," he said; "make no mistake about that. We are faced with the most serious domestic problem in the history of our republic.

"The time for talk and promises is past. The black militants want action now to provide them with their own opportunity to realize their own destinies, and they're going to get that action — or else."

Referring to Barker, Dr. Bortolazzo told the board: "This young man is one of these militants. I wish we had 50,000 more like him."

With Negro leaders like Barker and with the possibility for peace in Vietnam, which would allow the nation to devote full attention to "this grave crisis here at home," said Dr. Bortolazzo, "I am hopeful that despite the fact that our steps forward so far have been slow and faltering, this democratic society will be creative enough to make some real progress."

Barker, who now lives in San Mateo, is a product of the Harlem ghetto in New York. He dropped out of high school in his senior year to join the service ("it was either that or turn to dope on the streets"), then worked for a period as an aircraft mechanic before returning to school at CSM.

Now he is being offered a part-time teaching post at New York State University on Long Island, and hopes also to continue his law studies there.

"My teaching work would take me back into the ghetto where I was born," he said. "That is what must be done. The people who have left the ghetto must return to offer the skills that are needed to change those communities."

Why is the College of San Mateo "readiness program" succeeding, at least in a measure, while others are failing?

Barker had this answer:

"The other schools start with the wrong premise, and I was very disappointed in Washington to learn how general that mistake was. They take students who have had 12 years of non-education in remedial classes and offer them only more of the same. So the students quit.

"Here at CSM, we say, 'You want to be a college student? All right, you're going to be just that. You're going to take real college courses, none of this remedial stuff, and we're going to tutor you and help you in every way we can to show you how to succeed.'

"These are proud people. All they've heard in the past is that they are ignorant. We don't tell them that; we don't treat them like that. We ask them to make a commitment on the basis of their pride. When they do this, they have a powerful incentive, and you'd be surprised what handicaps such as incenive can overcome."

When Dr. Bortolazzo inspired the formulation of the "readiness program" little more than two years ago, CSM had less than 100 Negro students. The present Negro enrollment, according to Jean Wirth, who heads the program, is about 650, "and we expect well over 1000 next fall."

Brunan Held As Suspect In Burglary

A 6-foot, 7-inch, 235-pound unemployed truck driver who said he was tired of going hungry and living out of his car was captured at gunpoint last week by San Carlos police checking out a burglar alarm at a saddle shop.

Booked at county jail on charges of burglary and trespassing was Robert G. Stackhouse, 24, who formerly resided at 1421 Jenevein Avenue, San Bruno.

Policeman Pete Nannarone said that he, Officer Don Leed and Reserve Officer Jack Price found Stackhouse next to a broken rear window of the Peninsula Saddlery, 251 El Camino Real, at 10:30 p.m.

On the ground beneath the window were some leather working tools, a caliper and two screwdrivers which a company official told police had been on a bench inside the building under the broken window.

Nannarone said that Stackhouse told him he wanted to get caught because he was tired of going hungry and living out of his car.

The suspect stated that he had planned the burglary in order to get apprehended and had told a girl friend to call police at 8 p.m. and tell them there was a burglary in progress at

Gunshot Climaxes Quarrel

Lawrence Jachwag shot himself in the lower left side Sunday night following a quarrel with his wife, San Bruno police said.

Jachwag is in Peninsula Hospital.

A spokesman for the San Bruno police department said Jachwag's wife, Joyce, 37, said the couple had been quarreling and Jachwag threatened to shoot himself.

Mrs. Joyce Jachwag said she told her husband to go ahead, but don't do it in the house. Jachwag, she explained, went outside, but returned because it was too cold.

He then went into a bedroom, where he used a luger to inflict the wound.

Police recorded the incident as an attempted suicide.

Pioneer Flight Marked

An historic airplane flight on the San Francisco Peninsula in January, 1910, will be reenacted during San Bruno's Third Annual "Aviation Appreciation Week."

Chamber of Commerce Manager Larry Mobley announced that an SFO helicopter will pick up 25 press and invited aviation, government and Chamber officials at the Tanforan Shopping Center development site on May 1, to commemorate the first airplane flight from the former Tanforan Race Track on Jan. 24, 1910.

Pioneer French aviator Louis Paulhan was invited to put on an exhibition of flying at the race track by Bay Area aviation enthusiasts following his appearance in Los Angeles for a similar performance. The first day of the three-day show at Tanforan proved to be too windy and the flight was postponed until the following day, Jan. 24, 1910.

According to newspaper accounts of that day, "it was a stout-hearted crowd of people that made the journey to Tanforan." The report, on the following day, went on to describe the scene. "The band played as the people shuffled their feet and clapped their hands in an effort to keep warm, while the French argonaut of the clouds tested his motors and prepared for flight." After nine attempts to get his little bi-plane off the field against the winds, Paulhan finally made it on the tenth try.

Headlines on the front page of the newspaper read, "Paulhan, Trail Blazer of Sky, Entertains Vast Throng at the Tanforan Race Track," and, "Wings Way As a Bird Into Night Shadows," and another, "Paulhan's Flight a Nervy Undertaking." Paulhan's own comments after the flight were, "I flew today because I wanted to satisfy the people. I knew it was dangerous, but the people wanted to see me fly, and I did." Prominent Bay Area aviation pioneer Professor John J. Montgomery of Santa Clara University noted, "It was a full realization of dreams I had nearly thirty years ago. It was a wonderful sight and fully demonstrates the feasibility of flying with the planes."

The commemorative flight on May 1 is being sponsored by the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce as a prelude to their annual two-hour "Champagne Breakfast Flight" aboard a Pan American Airways 707 jet airliner.

July is for Girls and August is for Boys at The Mountain Camp

We're planning right now for the 1968 summer, our third. If you think your son or daughter would enjoy a couple of weeks in a relaxed, warm-hearted camp in the redwoods, it's none too soon for you to plan, too.

The Mountain Camp is secluded in 2,400 acres of Santa Cruz Mountain redwoods only an hour and a half from the mid-Peninsula. We have a lake, a trout stream, a dandy-big lodge and lots of camper cabins, great food, and a program of outdoor activities that teaches something useful as well as being lots of fun. The age bracket is 8 to 14.
